WEIGHING OF EARTH'S ELEMENTS PUZZLING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 9.—The atomic weights of nearly forty of the ninety or more chemical elements out of which everything in the universe is built have been definitely determined by Harvard chemists in the course of investigations begun 25 years ago and extending up to the present time. Attention was called to this prolonged research by the announcement that largely on account of his work in this field, Professor Theodore W. Richards, Nobel prize winner in 1914 and director of the Woburn Gibbs Memorial laboratory in Harvard, had been appointed a member of the international committee of scientists on elements, while Professor Gregory P. Baxter, formerly a pupil of Professor Richards and now an independent investigator at Harvard, had been chosen for the international committee on atomic weights.

The Harvard research is said to have thrown new light on the perplexing problem of the nature of matter, while data obtained are being used daily by thousands of chemists throughout the world.

The atomic weights of the elements are decided as the relative weights in which these elements combine with each other to form the countless substances of which the universe is constructed. These weights have usually been found to be amazingly constant. Silver from all parts of the world and from many different ores has always the same atomic weight. Copper from Europe is identical in this respect with that mined under the bottom of Lake Superior.

Professor Baxter's work long since proved that iron and nickel which fall from the sky in meteorites coming from the spaces far beyond the earth's orbit have exactly the same atomic weights as iron and nickel from the earth, a fact cited as indicating in one respect, at least, the unity of the universe.

The most important single result of the Harvard study of atomic weights is said to be the discovery, first proved definitely some years ago by Professor Richards and still holding good through recent careful tests, that there exist at least two kinds of lead instead of one. It was found that lead from radium minerals, while it possesses properties exactly similar to those of ordinary lead, has a distinctly smaller atomic weight, 208.1 as against 207.2.

The lead from the radium minerals is supposed to come from the decomposition of radium. Why its atomic weight is different from that of ordinary lead, whether ordinary lead may not itself prove to be a mixture of lighter lead with a heavier variety, perhaps due to the disintegration of the element thorium, and whether other elements, hitherto supposed to be final and indivisible, may not also prove to be mixtures and thus open up a whole series of new problems as to the composition of matter, are questions to which the answers are being eagerly sought by scientists over the world today.

Professor W. D. Harkins of Chicago has strong evidence that ordinary chlorine is a mixture, and F. W. Aston of Cambridge, England, by an entirely different method, indicates that many other elements are probably likewise composed of atoms of different weights. Harvard chemists are working at present to try to find out more about these two kinds of lead, but they are hampered by the fact that once mixed, the two kinds cannot by any ordinary chemical methods be separated.

WHAT'S WRONG

WITH THE WORLD?

The much talked of lecture by Peter W. Collins, "What's Wrong With the World," will be delivered in Associate hall this evening, under the auspices of Lowell council, 72, Knights of Columbus, and will be free to the public at large.

The noted lecturer, who has been an active labor leader for many years and served the government during the late war in the capacity of an industrial expert, is well qualified to speak on the problems which confront the United States at the present time, particularly those of an economic or sociological nature. After discussing these subjects thoroughly, Mr. Collins will answer any questions from the audience that may be asked.

WILL OBSERVE

ARMISTICE DAY

The observance of Armistice day by the Lowell high school will be held Thursday at 11 o'clock in Keith's theatre. A particularly interesting program has been arranged under the capable direction of Miss Mary C. Joyce. As the theatre cannot seat the entire school, half of the freshman class will not attend the exercises. The freshmen who did not attend the Columbus day exercises will attend the exercises tomorrow.

FIND FUR DEFENDANT
A finding for the defendant was brought in yesterday in the superior court in the case of Police Officer Jerome P. Cullen against the City of Lowell. The officer sought to recover $153 as compensation for alleged injuries he received on the force a few years ago.

HEAD COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Itched Badly, Baby Cried At Night, Cuticura Heals.

"My baby's head was covered with hard, red pimples. They itched so badly that she scratched them until they developed into sore eruptions. Her hair began to fall out, and at night she cried and kept me awake. 'I tried different remedies without relief until I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After one week's use I saw a great improvement, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment she was completely healed.' (Signed) Mrs. M. De Stefano, 76 French St., Bridgeport, Conn., May 11, 1921.

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum exclusively for every-day toilet purposes.
Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Lab., Dept. 500, P. O. Box 100, Lowell, Mass." Send 3-cent stamp for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. 10-cent stamp for Cuticura Soap and Talcum.

SIX-WHEEL TRUCK BEATS TRAIN IN SHORT HAUL

The nation need have no fear of famine in the eventuality of a railroad strike.

For trucks and truck haulage have attained such a degree of efficiency as to assure the country of continued food supply if all transportation stops.

The 420 miles were covered in 11 hours and 40 minutes, an average of 23 miles an hour.

The truck carried five tons of freight.

The Southern Pacific railroad, over a slightly longer route, makes this same trip in 14 hours and 50 minutes.

Fast passenger trains between New York and Pittsburgh, about the same distance, make the trip in 10 hours and 30 minutes.

Counting the time it takes for freight transfer at terminals and haulage by slower freight trains, the motor trip proves itself much faster than rail transportation.

This truck recently completed a trip from Akron to Los Angeles in seven days and a half, actual running time.

THE GERMAN EXPLOSION

Homeless German children, some of them injured, haunt the sites of their former homes, ruined in the big explosion at Oppau, Germany.

Luxury taxes and war funds have increased hotel bills in Italy by 20 per cent.

Democrats Win Another State

were incomplete this morning. Mrs. Mary Flannery of Caledonburg, had apparently won the honor of being the woman to be elected to the Kentucky legislature.

New Jersey republicans claimed to have elected 41 assemblymen out of a total of 60 seats contested, and asserted the party line in the senate would stand as it did last year—13 republican and six democratic. The "wet and dry issue" played a prominent role in that state, the republicans standing for strict enforcement while the democrats favored its modification or repeal.

Only one governorship hinged on yesterday's polling. Virginia electing Senator E. Lee Trinkle, democrat, by a large majority over Henry W. Anderson, republican.

Ten Killed in Election Riots

The voters of Ohio apparently were heavily in favor of the soldiers' bonus proposal, announcement being made by Secretary of State Smith that, in his opinion, it would be carried by 56,000. The bonus proposal would call for an amendment to the state constitution which would authorize the issuance of state bonds up to $25,000,000 out of which Ohio veterans of the great war would be paid $10 for each month in the service, the total payments to any man not exceeding $250.

Fatal election riots occurred in Kentucky, the centers of disturbance being in Breathitt and Estill counties and in the city of Louisville. Ten persons are reported to have been killed and nearly a score wounded.

"Wet" Candidate Wins

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Frank N. Schwab, republican, running on a platform declaring for amendment of the Volstead act to permit the sale of beer and light wines, was elected mayor of Buffalo yesterday, by a majority of 2553, over Mayor George S. Buck, also a republican. Mr. Schwab declared during his campaign speeches that a vote for him would be a protest against the prohibition laws as they now stand. Mayor Buck was elected mayor four years ago, by a plurality of 15,000.

Democrats Sweep Albany

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 9.—After 22 years of interrupted power, the republican administration in Albany city and county, were wiped out in yesterday's local democratic landslide. In addition to electing William S. Fitchett mayor by a plurality of more than 6000, the democrats won every place on the city ticket and are believed to have captured 15 of the 19 seats in the board of aldermen.

The democratic county ticket also was successful all along the line, and two of the three assembly districts were lost to the republicans.

Shank Wins in Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—Samuel Lewis Shank, republican, was elected mayor yesterday by the largest plurality ever given a candidate for that office. Official returns from 152 out of 165 precincts give Shank a plurality of 23,153 over Boyd M. Ralston, democrat.

Ex-Police Chief Elected Mayor

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—Conducting a campaign without the backing of an organization and without making a speech, Fred Kohler, former chief of police, reached the height of his ambition when he was elected mayor of Cleveland, over William S. Fitzgerald, republican incumbent, and five other candidates yesterday.

When Kohler was dismissed as chief of police in 1913, on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer, fled by former Mayor, Newton D. Baker, he set himself one goal.

"Eleven years from now will elect me its mayor," he told friends.

Detroit Mayor Re-elected

DETROIT, Nov. 9.—Again endorsing

Arguments On Motions Postponed

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Arguments on motions of Daniel H. Coakley and William J. Corcoran, attorneys, against whom disbarment petitions are pending, were postponed today until next Monday because of the illness of Supreme Court Justice Edward P. Pierce. The announcement was made by Judge Jenney. Counsel for the Boston Bar association in the case of Daniel V. McIsaac, whose disbarment is sought with the others by the association, told the court that by agreement McIsaac's case had been taken off the list for the present. McIsaac has made answer to the petition with a general denial. Motions by Coakley that the case against him be transferred to the superior court, and by Corcoran for permission to resign from the bar as he is now a resident of New York are before the court.

British Do Not Prove in Film That They Won at Jutland

JACQUELINE LOGAN, A YEAR AGO SHE WAS IN THE CHORUS OF THE REVIVAL OF "FLORADORA." NOW SHE'S PLAYING LEADING ROLES IN GOLDWIN PICTURES.

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The film version of the Battle of Jutland has arrived in America. It presents a nice lesson for the deliberators on armaments who are meeting at Washington. In 45 minutes one sees how millions of dollars of property representing years of human endeavor went down to the bottom of the sea.

One sees too, how the men who manned those vessels, German and English, humans all, died in the hellish blast of war like trapped rats are drowned.

Imagination is needed to make the film that realistic, for the battle is re-enacted with miniature ships, with glimpses of battleships in action. Interlarded occasionally to help the imagination.

Three years were spent in filming the re-enactment of the battle. Logs of both German and English vessels were studied to get the true maneuvers of Admirals Jellicoe, Beatty, Scheer and others.

This writer knows little about military strategy beyond the squad movements and the best tactics for getting a place at the head of the mess line. However, it appeared to him that if Admiral Beatty and his six cruisers hadn't been on the job, Admiral Jellicoe and the entire English fleet would have been wiped from the face of the sea.

And if a battle can be won defensively, the Germans won the Battle of Jutland as the English film depicts it.

The English attacked. The Germans retreated to their mine fields with less loss than that suffered by Jellicoe's fleet.

This film is of especial interest to minds which respond to the intricacies of chess and checkers.

This writer saw the picture within an hour after its arrival in America. It will be generally released within several weeks by Educational.

Investors in wildcat motion picture stocks and production schemes lost $500,000 this year, according to Martin J. Quigley, chairman of a vigilance committee appointed by recognized producers. Most of that sum was taken from small investors, widows and working women seeking to get rich quickly.

The vigilance committee has been promised the support of the American Bankers' association in suppressing fake movie stock and studio schemes. When you are asked to invest in any movie project, ask your banker's advice.

Charles Urban, who maintains a film library like a morgue in a newspaper office, has prepared a Kineto Review called "Permanent Peace." All of the leaders in the disarmament conference are shown. Pictures are shown of Roosevelt and Wilson when they were dominant in the peace projects of the world. Battlefields and the immense armies and navies of the nations are also shown. It is a graphic visualization of the world's need for disarmament.

Bill Hart appears as a Beau Brummel of the Mississippi frontier days in "White Oak." He makes a picturesque character and thus gives promise of fitting into the role of Patrick Henry, which he will portray in the costume of the Revolutionary period.

In "White Oak" Hart rides a horse, coddles a dog and kills a tribe of Indians and several white men. It's a typical Hart picture, with an extra portion of Hart. After seeing it one wonders how Bill will be able to get along as Patrick Henry without horse or six-shooter.

CUT! CUT! CUT!

Claire Adams and Carl Gantvoort are to be featured in the screen version of Zane Grey's "Wild Fire."

Another silly title change—screen version of Harriet T. Comstock's "Mamelle Jo" has been named "Silent Years."

New York physicians have formed a society for the advancement of medicine and surgery by means of motion pictures.

"Over the Hill" is to be exhibited in Shanghai, Singapore, and Interior Russia. The movie speaks Esperanto, as before.

LICENSE COMMISSION

The license commission held a brief meeting last night granting a number of minor permits and tabling several others for further consideration. The application of John Herrigan, of 221 Chelmsford street, for a billiards and pool license, was given leave to withdraw. The application of Henry Bernstein for a lodging house at 1215 Middlesex street and of Victor Lovejoy for pool and billiards at 433 Merrimack street were tabled for one week. The following permits were granted: Common victualler, Henry W. Allard, 302 Moody street; express, Sokolakis Brothers, 375 Market street and Virgil W. Griffer, 165 Church street; lodging house, Margaret Sullivan, 207 Worthington street; public amusement for dancing, Nereus H. Mahtesian, 130 Central street; to sell ice cream on the Lord's day, Thomas A. Skahan, 1203 Gorham street; John J. Hyde, 665 Chelmsford street and Edgar Fortler, 123 Alken street.

EXCITEMENT IN VERNON STREET

Visions of a trunk containing, perhaps the body of a slain person, being lowered from a house into an automobile ready to convey it to parts unknown, entered the minds of police officers on duty at the station late last night when a phone call from a Vernon street resident summoned the police to that street to investigate the "lowering of a bundle from a third story window to the street." And a machine, to complete the story, was standing in the street apparently ready to whisk away whatever was being removed from the house.

Sergeant Higelow and a squad of patrolmen put out for the locality. They arrived there in 11½ time, but the lowering operation had been completed and there were no signs of any bundles, mysterious or otherwise, or rope with which anything might have been lowered into the street. The waiting automobile was still waiting, however, and the police at once investigated its business. The occupants of the car then revealed the deeply shrouded mystery. A cat had caused all the excitement. It seems that a kitten belonging to someone on that street had made it a nightly habit of scaling this house to the third floor piazza and then entering the house. The occupants of this abode are fond of pets, but apparently did not take kindly to this particular little stranger. For a few nights the usual performance of scaling the cat and taking him down three flights of stairs to the street was carried out but last night when the kitten put in its appearance a novel idea dawned on the mistress of the house. She attached a rope to a basket, placed the cat in it and out of the window she lowered it. Neighbors across the street gazed and gasped. What could it be? Little time was lost. The police were sent for. Following the investigation the disordered neighbors were assured that there was nothing the matter with Vernon street.

WHAT'LL THE NEIGHBORS SAY?

OLD RESIDENT GIVES FACTS TO PUBLIC

MRS. JANET WILKINS SAYS SHE EATS ANYTHING, HAS GAINED IN WEIGHT AND FEELS FINE

"If I could I would tell everybody personally what Tanlac has done for me and what a grand medicine it is," declared Mrs. Janet Wilkins, 18 Northampton st., Boston. Mrs. Wilkins has resided in Boston for 36 years and is highly esteemed by all who know her.

"For eight years I suffered miserably from stomach trouble, and at times it seemed like I just couldn't stand it any longer. My appetite was so poor I could eat scarcely anything. I had to resort to the very lightest of food, and even then I suffered agony. I bloated with gas until I could hardly get my breath, and became so weak and faint it alarmed me. My nerves were shattered, my sleep was restless and broken, and I was so weak and wornout that my housework was drudgery for me."

"My first bottle of Tanlac helped me so much that I lost no time in getting another, and I kept improving at such a rapid rate that four bottles have made me perfectly well again. I am eating more heartily than ever before, everything agrees with me, and I have gained a number of pounds in weight. I haven't an ailment of any kind now, sleep like a child at night, and find my housework a pleasure. I just think Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world."

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's Drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Haverhill, Mass.; A. D. Ellis, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

Foch Official Guest of State of Ohio

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—Refreshed after a day of unbroken rest, Marshal Foch today became the official guest of the state of Ohio, the Ohio department of the American Legion and the city of Cleveland. Tens of thousands of school children, each with French and American flags, formed a lane through which the marshal rode down Euclid avenue. The marshal was received at the local American Legion headquarters where he was presented with a scroll setting forth the welcome of Cleveland Legionnaires and at noon was to address a civic meeting. Marshal Foch was to be the recipient of an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Western Reserve university this afternoon.

"DANDERINE"

35-cent Bottle Ends all Dandruff, Stops Hair Coming Out

Ten minutes after using Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow long, strong and luxuriant. One application of Danderine makes thin, lifeless, colorless hair look youthfully bright, lustrous, and just twice as abundant.—Adv.

KING TO DISCUSS IRISH SITUATION

Speech of Prorogation Said to Deal Almost Exclusively
With Ireland

All Parties to Irish Negotiations Engaged in Informal
Parleys Yesterday

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Forecasts of the king's speech proroguing parliament which it is thought will be delivered tomorrow are to the effect that it deals almost exclusively with the Irish situation.

Prorogation of parliament tomorrow, together with the fact that Friday is Armistice day, probably will force a postponement until Monday of official conversations between Premier Lloyd George and members of the Ulster cabinet.

All the parties to the negotiations engaged in informal parleys yesterday.

The report continues that, should the Ulsterites be unable to reconcile their views with those of Mr.
Lloyd George, he will offer his resignation as prime minister.

RAILROAD MEN DISCUSS WAGES

The following communication is received from the press committee of railroad brotherhoods with which the local railroad men are connected:

Lowell, Mass.,
Nov. 8th, 1921.

Mr. Editor: In refutation of some of the unfair propaganda so steadily put out by the "Association of Railroad Executives," and, printed as news items, by so many of our newspapers, but not in The Lowell Sun, to educate the public and "guard" them against the sinister aims of the railroad brotherhoods, will you kindly publish a few facts gathered from governmental sources which tend to refute the arguments used against the railroad men during the late unpleasantness.

A table compiled by the United States department of labor conclusively shows how far behind the cost of living the wages of union labor trailed even during and since the war period when "high" wages have prevailed.

The comparison is made with 100 as the base in 1913:

Year	Rate	Cost of Living
1913	100	100
1914	102	103
1915	105	108
1916	108	115
1917	112	142
1918	120	174
1919	125	193
1920	130	216

The peak was reached in 1920 with the wages of union labor showing an increase of 30 per cent. and the cost of living an increase of 116 per cent.
over 1913 and not once during the period from 1913 to 1920 did the wages received by organized labor equal the steadily mounting costs of living, but rather lagged far behind.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, it is impossible to reconcile these facts taken from the reports of the United States government with the false position taken by the executives committee, when they state that wages and especially railroad wages are the cause of the high cost of living and the high freight rates. We recognize the authority of the United States government as expressed, not only by the wage labor board but also by the United States department of labor.

Respectfully submitted,
PUBLICITY COMMITTEE R.R.
BROTHERHOODS T. B. M.

Hylan Wins by 417,086

Continued

missioner of elections, declared it was one of the quietest elections in his career. No serious disturbance was reported.

In every borough the coalition candidates went down under an avalanche of democratic votes, the mayor's plurality in each case exceeding the total vote cast for Curran. In the Bronx, he led by more than 2 to 1.

Hylan Ahead of Ticket

Mayor Hylan ran away ahead of his ticket, leading Dock Commissioner Murray Hulbert, successful democratic candidate for president of the board of aldermen, his nearest rival, by about 134,000 votes. State Senator Charles C.
Lockwood, republican candidate for comptroller, led the coalition ticket, receiving approximately 58,000 votes more than Mr. Curran, but nearly 250,- 000 less than his successful democratic rival.

The ticket elected was:
Mayor—John F. Hylan.
Comptroller—Charles I. Craig.
President of the board of aldermen—Murray Hulbert.

President of borough of Manhattan—
Julius Miller.
President borough of Brooklyn—Edward P. Heigelmann.
President borough of Bronx—Henry Bruckner.
President borough of Queens—Matthew J. Cahill.
President borough of Richmond—Matthew J. Cahill.

The smashing democratic triumph gives the party all the votes on the important board of estimate and apportionment, which consists of the mayor, comptroller, president of the board of aldermen and five borough presidents.
The democrats also are assured of a heavy majority in the board of aldermen.

Big Slump in Socialist Vote

In the state-wide contest for associate judge of the court of appeals, Townsend Scudder, democrat, carried the city by a plurality of 261,975 over William S. Andrews, republican. The complete vote was Scudder, 629,555; Andrews, 368,010, and Ezekiah Wilcox, socialist, 102,254.

There was a heavy slump in the socialist vote. Jacob Panken polled approximately 62,000 less for mayor than the vote cast for Morris Hillquit four years ago. Socialists elected Louis Weltz as assemblyman in the fourth Bronx district and August Chassens in the 17th New York district.

Women candidates for municipal and county offices, with the exception of Miss Annie Mathews, successful democratic candidate for registrar of Manhattan county, did not fare well.

The vote in this city on the constitutional amendments, based on very incomplete returns, showed large majorities against the soldier civil service preference amendment and the amendment providing for increased salaries for legislators, and a substantial majority in favor of the literacy test for voters.

Four Election Officers Arrested

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—On complaint of two socialist watchers, Daniel Platt, chairman of the election board in the second election district of the 11th assembly district, and three of his clerks were arrested today, charged with mu-ltitulating ballots in yesterday's election.
They were also charged with making fraudulent election returns.

The stomach can digest only a cer-

Do This Tonight

Watch the quick effects—see the change in a week

Present this coupon to your dealer. He will give you a delightful ten-day test of a new teeth-cleaning method which millions are employing.

Watch the effects, quick, pleasant and conspicuous. Watch the new luster that comes.
In ten days let your mirror tell you the way to pretty teeth.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this method now. You will see and feel the reasons when you make this test.

End the dingy film

The chief purpose is to fight film. This viscous coat, which you can feel, causes dingy teeth and also most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The old ways of brushing did not end it. So film-coats night and day threaten serious damage.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing. Despite the daily brushing with old methods, very few escaped them.

Now you can fight it

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved them effective. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in Pepsodent, the new-day, scientific tooth paste. Millions of people now use it, and the use is fast spreading the world over.

That is the dentifrice we urge you to try.
Your druggist has a free tube for you. Enjoy its effects for ten days, then judge them for yourself.

Also starch and acids

Modern diet makes other things essential.
And those essentials are embodied in this scientific tooth paste.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch di-gestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva.
That is Nature's agent for neutralizing acids which attack the teeth.

Endorsed by authorities, advised by leading dentists, and supplied by all druggists in the la-west Styles

This offer is for one week only.
It means much to you and yours.
Act now.

An ideal diet would do these same things, but few people get it. So dental science now needs the tooth paste to bring these desired effects.

Pepsodent will daily bring you five great benefits which the old ways did not bring.
Together they mean a new era in teeth cleaning.

Men's tobacco stains

Men who smoke stain these film-coats with tobacco. The use of Pepsodent brings them conspicuous effects.

Food stains with women make these film-coats dingy. The glistening teeth seen everywhere now show how Pepsodent removes them.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Very few escape them. Dentists advise that they use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Watch teeth whiten

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. No user can long doubt them. A book we send explains the reasons for them.
A very short test will convince you that this new-way is essential.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube.
Now how clean the teeth feel after using.
The absence of the viscous film. See whiten as the film-coats disappear, other good effects.

The bodice alone, which resembles a basque, is of matisse piped in velvet. The skirt is full and extremely girlish appearing. The small hat with its pendant loop is of red silk and velvet.

CITY SOLICITOR
SUBMITS OPINION

Some time ago, the city solicitor received a request from the high school building commission for an opinion relative to the disposal of the school building. The commission had been removed from a building in the course of reconstruction under contract, to which the said commission is a party, as to whom the proceeds of the sale should be credited, the high school building commission or any other repository, and the solicitor has submitted the following opinion:

Section 2 of chapter 178, Special Acts of 1919, the act creating your commission, says in part:

"So far as may be necessary for the purposes of this act, the commission shall have all the powers and duties conferred and imposed by chapter six hundred and forty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and eleven upon the municipal council of the city of Lowell in the erection, alteration, repair and equipping of school buildings, and the acquisition of land therefor, and shall succeed to the rights and liabilities, and perform the duties of the municipal council relating to the construction of said buildings."

If the agreement entered into between your commission and the contractor for the construction of the new high school and repairs to the old building stipulated that the contract price was to be reduced by an amount in consideration of the conveyance of these furnaces to said contractor, or if the specifications stated that said furnaces when removed were to become the property of the contractor, the contractor would have good title to this property and could claim the same, and your commission would be acting under authority of law in permitting him to do so, as a matter of fact, there was no agreement made between said contractor and the city regarding said furnaces. Therefore, they are the property of the city of Lowell and should be disposed of by your commission.

Your commission having the jurisdiction vested in it by said chapter 178, had the sole right under the provisions of said chapter to sell these furnaces, but after the sale the proceeds received therefrom should be deposited in the general treasury of the city pursuant to the provisions of section 2, chapter 415, of the acts of 1920, and thereafter should be appropriated by the municipal council to your appropriation.

It may be informed, however, that as a matter of fact there are yet no "proceeds" from said sale, the purchaser not having paid for said furnaces, and I assume until the purchase money is received and appropriated the proceeds from the general treasury to your appropriation is a moot question.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM D. RIGAN,
City Solicitor.DISTRICT COURT HAS SHORT SESSION

The district court, Judge Fisher on the bench, was in session less than ten minutes today. Only three cases came up for disposition. Because of other engagements of counsel the trial of Urban A. Homer, charged with being a fugitive from justice and with non-support, was again continued to November 16. Ball on the first complaint was set at $1000 and on the latter at $300. Homer, who is also wanted by the Providence police for bigamy, has been the center of considerable activity in the local court. It appears that he married a second time in Providence before a divorce decree from a Lowell girl had become absolute. On a statutory charge last week he was given a suspended sentence to the house of correction.

A larceny case involving an old employee of a local store has been settled out of court. It was stated today, the complaint being filed before trial. The company was the complainant, charging the defendant with stealing a quantity of groceries and other articles from the store. For neglect of his wife a Billerica man was placed on probation for six months.

Gold was used by the Romans for filling teeth 500 years before Christ.

DECLARES WAR
ON MAIL BANDITS

Armed Marines to Guard
Mails at Postoffices in All Large Cities

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—With a declaration of "open warfare" by the postoffice department on the bandits responsible for the startling series of mail robberies, 1000 United States marines were proceeding to duty today as guards of mail trains and trucks and at postoffices in 16 large cities, including Boston.

They will be armed with pistols and saved-off shotguns and are under orders from Major General Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, to shoot to kill, if necessary, to prevent looting of the mails. By tonight Gen. Lejeune said, practically all trains in the country carrying valuable mails will be under guard.

President Harding was said to have expressed approval of Postmaster General Hays' plan. The marines later, it was said, are to be replaced by a special force recruited for the postal service.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED AS MATTAPAN NURSE

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The body of the woman found dead, a suicide from gas, in the lodging house at 553 Massachusetts avenue, Monday afternoon, was identified at the Northern Massachusetts hospital as that of Miss Jean McArthur, 33, single, a nurse at the Boston Consumptives' hospital in Mattapan.

The identification was made by Miss L. Corey, a nurse at the hospital. Dr. Hunt of the staff of the hospital, was communicated with by Dr. Leary, Dr. Hunt said that Miss Corey was a proper person to make the identification.

Edward Everett Adams read about 20 original poems at a meeting of friends that filled his apartment in last night. The poetical readings by Mr. Adams were followed by a musical program offered by Gladys M. Greene and M. Marion Adams. The poems were of various subjects ranging from works of light mood to those of more serious vein. The entire program proved highly pleasing and Mr. Adams was complimented for his excellent work.

GERMAN VIEW OF PARLEY

Believe Arms Conference Will Result in Cancellation of War Debts

BERLIN, Nov. 9. (By the Associated Press.)—Belief that the Washington conference will result in cancellation or postponement of payment of the war debts owed the United States by entente nations, is expressed by Dr. Friedrich Rosen, former foreign minister, in an article in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

In this event, he believes, the German reparations terms will be revised.

Otherwise, he declares, he feels that the Germans have nothing to hope from the conference, as the manner in which armament limitation has been applied to Germany, instead of being a step toward world peace, has only laid the ground work for future conflicts.

Dr. Rosen sees an even greater probability of naval limitations in the reduction of land forces, which he thinks now constitute the principal menace to peace.

BOSTON MAIL TRAIN
GUARDED BY MARINES

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Orders to have mail cars on the Southwestern Railroad leaving this city daily at 2 p. m., over the Boston & Albany railroad for Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis, guarded by armed marines were issued today. This will be the first train out of Boston so guarded.

Similar guards would be placed on other mail trains leaving later, in accordance with instructions from Postmaster General Hays.

Christopher Reising, superintendent of the Railway Mail Service in New England, said he expected about 100 marines to be assigned from the navy here for train duty. They will be placed on all trains carrying registered mail. Details of their assignment were worked out at a conference today with chief clerks of the various New England divisions.

Thatcher of Portland, Me., D. F. Hunt of White River Junction, Vt., J. Costello of New Haven, Conn., and H. F. French of this city, conferred with Superintendent Reising.

The question of placing marines on mail trains in the city was taken under consideration by Postmaster Roland R. Baker. The trucks at present, it was pointed out, carry armed guards furnished by the postoffice department.

course he had pursued in the circumstances. No definite decision will be taken by the Ulster representatives until they are in possession of the detailed written statement of the negotiations between Mr. Lloyd George and the Sinn Féin delegates which the British premier has promised.

The Ulster cabinet members adjourned until 11 o'clock Thursday morning when Mr. Lloyd George hopes to have the statement ready.

One of those present at the session was asked what the position was at present. In reply he pointed to the fog outside.

"Like that," he said.

Fourth Anniversary of Soviet Republic

MOSCOW, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Premier Lenin made the fourth anniversary of the Soviet republic today the occasion of an article in an anniversary number issued by the Pravda in which he predicts the world chase for gold will result in wars between America and Japan, or America and England by 1925 or 1928. The article, "The value of gold now and after the victory of Socialism," says the Soviet government has merely retreated in the attack on world capitalism and is strengthening its position so it can make renewed assaults.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE
HOLDS FIRST MEETING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The advisory committee of 21 appointed by President Harding for the armament conference was assembled here today for its first meeting, which was also to be attended by the four principal American delegates. The committee was to be received during the day by President Harding at the White House.

Its initial meeting at which it was expected policies would be definitely shaped, was scheduled as two more foreign delegations neared Washington—the British headed by A. J. Balfour, and the Italian party which was expected to arrive today in New York, on the steamer Dante.

The attitude of other powers toward naval and military programs was set forth when Admiral Baron Kato last night said that Japan stood ready to reduce her "eight eight" building program if a satisfactory proportional agreement was reached by the powers, and spokesmen for the French delegation indicated that France was willing to meet the other powers half way in an adjustment of the military situation.

would include the various departments of the city and Commissioner Salmon said he believed it should include all departments. The vote in favor of suspending all civic operations on Armistice day was unanimous.

Commissioner Salmon brought up the matter of installing a new water main across Central bridge. He said such action was being recommended by the city engineer, who thinks the new main should be placed directly in the center of the structure. The commissioner believed the cost of the work should be charged up to the appropriation for the bridge so that no confusion may arise later. The council then introduced a vote that he be instructed to enter into a contract with the Middlesex Machine Co. for the installation of the said main, the emergency clause being attached to the vote. The order was passed unanimously.

Commissioner Marchand was authorized to sell at public auction the New Moody street school building, which was recently turned over to the city by the school department.

The council adopted an order for the borrowing of the principal sum of $10,000 for a five-year period for water main extensions was voted upon favorably.

Before the meeting was brought to a close the mayor and other members of the council sent out a request to all residents of Lowell to fly the colors on Armistice day.

The local district court will be open Friday, Armistice Day. It was officially announced today. This decision follows similar action taken by courts throughout the state. The clerk of the court further stated, however, that out of respect for the unknown soldier of America, who is to be buried in Washington on that day, the session will be adjourned quickly.

GRACE CHURCH LECTURE

Charles H. Eglee Talks on "The New Era of Industrial Management"

Workers of today aspire to something more than just holding down their jobs, Charles H. Eglee of Boston told the members of Grace church Men's club, last evening. His lecture outlined "the new era of industrial management." Mr. Eglee is industrial manager for the Massachusetts Leather Manufacturers' association. The speaker followed the monthly dinner and business meeting of the club held in the parish house. President Ora Hardy of the club announced an increase in the membership rolls. Introducing Mr. Eglee, the president said he was well known in Lowell, having spent the past 15 months here inaugurating plans for new activities at the Massachusetts mills for the promotion of a better understanding between employers and employees of that plant.

Mr. Eglee declared it is not money alone that workers wanted nowadays. They wanted to be "in the know," he said. He described in detail the plans for increased welfare work in the mill cities. Man's primal instinct is production—reproduction of the races—and this instinct cannot be done away with. Pervert that instinct and you turn men toward destruction and radicalism, the speaker said.

"All over this land there is now a new era dawning," he continued. "Last spring there were 45 leather manufacturers in the state dreading a strike. Four thousand workers were on strike in Peabody, and settlement seemed far away. But one man came forward and instituted a new deal. 'We will not fight,' he said. After a few weeks the workers accepted a pay cut with no disturbance whatever, as they had been shown in man-to-man fashion the need of the cut. Now that whole town has changed for the better. When the labor union which a man belongs to says one thing and the employer for whom he works says another, he is between the devil and the deep sea."

"The experiment in the Massachusetts mills here in Lowell is only started, but already the whole temper, the whole morale, of that mill is entirely changed. Now the workers and their employers are ready to get together and do things. This change is taking place in establishments the country over, and it marks the ushering in of a new era in industrial management."

Mr. Eglee was given a rising vote of thanks for his talk. He answered many questions concerning the new plan of industrial management.

HE DIDN'T GET AWAY WITH IT

The daring resistance put up by a woman and her hires for help resulted a snatch thief who attempted to grab her pocketbook from her hand at the corner of Market and Dummer streets late last night. The woman was returning home when suddenly the man, appearing at a dark spot, tried to snatch the bag. He was unsuccessful, however, the woman having a firm hold on the bag and when he repeated the attempt she fought back and screamed, frightening off the assailant. A vague description of the man was given to the police.

SOME PEOPLE PREFER TABLETS

Pepto-Mangan is Sold in Liquid and Tablets—the Same Medicinally

The famous blood builder, Gude's Pepto-Mangan, can be had in tablet form, as well as in liquid. Some people prefer Pepto-Mangan tablets to the liquid. They are put up in a convenient package. There are people who take the liquid Pepto-Mangan at home morning and night, and take the tablets at noon time.

Medicinally the liquid and the tablet form of Gude's Pepto-Mangan are the same. Any druggist can supply this well known blood builder. Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for years. It restores the blood to its normal healthy state by increasing the number of red cells. Men, women and children who are run down, weak, pale and sickly regain normal health by helping the blood to get back its strength. Look for the name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package.—Adv.

THE EFFICIENT WOMAN

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of 50 years ago, who ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force and energy, in the sense that it is used today? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition.

Y. M. C. A. Building in Ruins

The building escaped with difficulty, several being obliged to slide down ropes and for a time it was believed two had lost their lives. The missing men were accounted for later, however.

The blaze started in the basement of the main building and gained headway rapidly. The flames shot up through an airshaft and spread to all floors.

Find 10 Hanging from Ropes

The fire was discovered by men on the fourth floor. Finding their escape by the stairways cut off they opened a window and attracted the attention of a passer-by, who sounded the alarm.

When the firemen arrived they found 16 men dangling from fire ropes thrown over from windows of the building. Ladders were taken out to rescue them and others were taken out of upper story windows. One fireman was slightly injured when he fell through a floor.

The Somerville board of trade had quarters on the first floor of the building together with the offices of the Y.M.C.A. The remainder of the building was used for assembly halls and sleeping quarters. Only the walls were standing after the fire was controlled. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

MAYOR QUINN WINS

Poll Largest Vote Ever Given a Candidate for Mayor in Cambridge

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Edward W. Quinn yesterday was re-elected mayor of Cambridge in a landslide. Mayor Quinn had a plurality of more than 900 over his nearest competitor, Representative Julian Meyers, who polled 515. John P. Good had 1200 votes, ex-City Solicitor James F. Alward 441 and John A. Kelleher 108 votes.

Mayor Quinn has the distinction of polling the largest vote ever given a candidate for mayor in Cambridge.

About 21,000 votes, or more than two-thirds of the total registered vote of 32,000 was cast, making the vote polled a heavy one. There was a heavy turnout.

In the contest for school committee the Cambridge Public School association re-elected two of its four candidates, James S. Cassidy and Charles F. McCue, although Miss Nora J. Driscoll was re-elected at the head of the ticket. The fourth place was won by Francis J. Roche.

Hugh G. Anderson was re-elected councilor-at-large, out of a field of 15 who contested for four places. Councilors James T. Barrett and John McCarthy were also re-elected, and Merrill Griswold got fourth place.

The city voted "Yes" on the license question as it has done yearly since prohibition became a law.

FIREMEN TURN
HOSE ON "KIDDERS"

WILLIAMSTOWN, Nov. 8.—After being subjected to considerable "hazing" by Williams College students while fighting a blaze at the home of Charles F. Bates on Cole avenue, members of the Gale Hose company turned the hose on their annoyers. Twenty-five or 30 of the students were unseated.

While some of the students were making sarcastic remarks, members of the college fire brigade turned out to assist the regular fire department in extinguishing the flames. The fire in the Bates house was confined to the kitchen, the damage being estimated at $1000.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY
The Holy Name society of St. Michael's parish, will receive holy communion next Sunday morning at the 8 o'clock mass. In the evening at 6:30 o'clock the regular meeting will be held. There is business of importance to be considered at the meeting and it is hoped all members will attend. The membership committee is busy for the coming initiation of new members in preparation for the union Holy Name meeting in January; and there is much enthusiasm among the members as the result of the activity of the membership committee. Both Fr. Shaw, pastor of the parish, and Fr. Quinn, spiritual director of the Holy Name society are actively interested in the work of the membership committee and will do all they can to assist in making the drive for new members a grand success.

It is understood that this school is willing to furnish instructors one or two nights a week in the event that classes are instituted in this city. If the matter can be satisfactorily handled classes will be opened for members of the club and other citizens who are interested.

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
The Stantons—Val and Bernice—are coloring more laughter than ever with their inimitable satire on the English language as it is not spoken. At the D. F. Keith theatre. They constitute one of the splendid features of a bill which holds many very good things. The five musical Magicians put forward a Scottish act of speed and interest, and Howard & Sandler have some of the wildest stinging numbers. Fetching and neat are William Newell and Bessie Most, whose little act, "On the Lawn" holds plenty of novelty up the bill in a perfect whirlwind of amazing falls. Gold & Edwards are snappy male dancers, and Shapiro and Jordan are specially good in singing numbers. It is a tip-top bill all the way through.

YOUR WINTER
COAL

ANTHRACITE costs consumers almost twice as much as it costs before the war.

Metals, textiles, building materials, leather, etc., cost more than twice as much as they did formerly.

Nevertheless it is perfectly natural that you do not like to pay present coal prices.

Neither do we. But—

With wages at the mine fixed until next year at 138 per cent. above pre-war levels,

And freight rates 100 per cent. higher;

With our profits per ton so small that if we took it all off it would not make any material differences to the individual consumer—

We do not see how prices can be reduced.

Get Back Your Grip on Health

Every man and woman is born with just so much nerve force or nerve capital—some with more than others. Thousands inherit weak nerves because their nerve force has been squandered by their ancestors. Your system can only make or create about so much nerve force every twenty-four hours. If it is used up by your usual habits, you are bound in time to become a nervous bankrupt with all its terrible symptoms and alarming consequences. To such cases, it is often worse than looking to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs. What you need is to take something to put more nerve force into your nerves and more life into your blood. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most readily penetrates the brain and nerve cells of man. It also contains "Fey's Iron" like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. The form of iron will not blacken the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from the iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed as both a tonic and a nerve food as it feeds strength giving iron to your blood and the principal chemical ingredient of active living nerve force to your brain and nerve cells. At all druggists.

HURLBURT ASSAILS JUDGE SANDERSON

BOSTON, March 9.—Henry F. Hurlburt, president of the Boston Bar association and a special assistant attorney general, who prosecuted Dist. Atty. Tufts with Atty. Gen. Allen, assailed Judge Sanderson of the superior court for his conduct in the trial of the celebrated 1918 Trust cases in his argument in a brief submitted to the full bench of the supreme court yesterday.

"These are strange charges," said Mr. Hurlburt, "and counsel, as officers of the court, are reluctant to make them, but they are amply warranted by the record."

Mr. Hurlburt is counsel for the defendants in the fish case which came before the supreme court yesterday for argument on the exceptions taken at the trial of the cases in 1919.

He argued that "the conduct of the judge, where the rights and liberties of presumably innocent men are concerned, is indefensible and is a blot upon the administration of justice."

He charged the judge with having abdicated his functions, and declared that his conduct in the trial was "outrageously injurious to the defendants."

The attack by Mr. Hurlburt caused a stir at the courthouse. After a trial lasting eight weeks, a jury returned a verdict against all the defendants represented by Mr. Hurlburt, and acquitted three defendants, two represented by Daniel V. Mahan and the other by John H. Wright.

F. Munroe Dyer, president of the Bay State Fishing company of Massachusetts, Joshua Palno, Joseph A. Rich, Ernest A. James and John Burns, Jr., other officers of the company, were sentenced to the house of correction for a year each and were severally fined $1000. Alvin G. Baker, Ephraim N. Cook, Willard R. Cox, Louis B. Gedspeed, Winfield S. Gendrick, William P. McKoon, Frederick G. Phillips, Albert E. Watts, Herbert A. Rich and Simon Atwood were each given six months and fined $500.

The sentences were imposed in July, 1919, but the execution was stayed pending the determination of the defendant's exceptions by the supreme court. The cases finally reached the court for argument yesterday afternoon. Damon E. Hall, partner of Mr. Hurlburt, began the oral argument. The arguments will be resumed today. Mr. Hurlburt is expected to make a closing oral argument, supplementing his argument contained in the brief that he submitted to the court. Ex-Atty. Gen. Atwill and ex-Dist. Atty. Webber, who prosecuted the cases, appear for the commonwealth.

The defendants were charged with conspiracy to create a monopoly to enhance the price of fish, to cheat and defraud the public, and also with violation of the statute relating to combinations. The jury returned its verdicts, April 17, 1919.

HOLIDAY SCHEDULES ON RAILROADS FRIDAY

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Plans for the observance of Armistice day are well matured.

The governing council of the Retail Trade board of the chamber of commerce has voted to recommend that all stores that are members of the board close all day as a token of respect to the unknown soldier to be buried on that day.

The Boston & Maine, the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Albany railroads announce that they will operate only on a holiday schedule. This action is due to the closing of so many factories and places of business. The New Haven announced as well that its trains will operate on the schedule that is noted in the folders for Thanksgiving day.

Boston policemen on duty will observe the two minutes of silence requested by the president unless duty demands their attention. According to Supt. Crowley they will stand at attention as a mark of respect to the soldier dead.

Acting on a Washington order the Boston postoffice and branches will be closed all day and only special delivery letters will be delivered by carriers, and only the usual holiday collection of mail will be made from the boxes.

The Loyal Legion announces that it will display at headquarters, 24 Mt. Vernon street, the flags of the 22 allies during the war and the flags of the six nations who broke off diplomatic relations with the central powers. These flags are the property of Telfair Minton, secretary of the Legion, and are said to be one of the very few complete collections of the flags of the allies. During the arms conference flags of the nations attending will be flown in accordance with a schedule that has been worked out.

The American Legion will hold exercises at the Buckman bandstand, according to State Commander Duane. All posts are invited to attend, and men are to be in uniform. There will be no speeches. The program is as follows: Assembly, 11:30 a. m.; music, 11:45; parade rest, 12; silence, 12 to 12:45; salute, 12:45; taps, 12:50. Music will be furnished by a band of 135 pieces. Detachments from the army, navy and marines will be present. Seats will be reserved for gold-star mothers and fathers.

THEIR CHINA WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sullivan, of 1345 Gorton street celebrated the 20th anniversary of their marriage on Sunday evening at their home. A number of their friends called and surprised them with many costly gifts. A musical program was carried out and refreshments were served. The party broke up at a reasonable hour and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan many years of happiness.

LOWELL BOY HOLY CROSS DEBATER

The debaters chosen to represent Holy Cross college in an intercollegiate debate with Fordham university in New York city early in December are Francis A. Drumm, '22, East Pepperell, captain; John E. Carroll, '23, Providence, R. I.; George F. Shea, '22, Shushbury, Conn.; Edward A. Conway, '21, Milwaukee, Wis., first alternate; Albert L. Bourgeois, '22, Lowell, second alternate. These speakers represent the final selection of a board of five faculty

Judges after two preliminary contests in which a large number of the members of the two debating societies, the B.J.F. and the Philomathean, took part.

In addition to the debate with Fordham university, Holy Cross will also debate Providence college, and arrangements are now being made to debate Syracuse university, Boston university, Canisius college, Buffalo, N. Y., and Boston college. These contests, it is hoped, will afford ample opportunity for the development of the wealth of debating material at Holy Cross to sustain the high reputation in debate for which the Jesuit institution is justly famous.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres Own Press Agents

OPERA HOUSE: "The Love Hand," which is being presented this week by the Lowell

Players at the Opera House, is meeting with unquestioned favor on the part of the many patrons. Miss Shirley Magrath and Kolman Matton, who are appearing in the principal roles, are scoring heavily, while John Strong, the new member of the company, and the others of the cast were never seen to better advantage. The story is a pleasant mixture of good dramatic possibilities and excellent comedy. The stage settings are most commendable. There will be a special matinee performance on Friday afternoon. Next week "Over the Hills to the Poor House" will be the production.

THE STRAND

Today offers the last chance of seeing Viola Dana and Frank Mayo in their newest and cleverest photoplays. Miss Dana is as fascinating as ever in "Laf's Darn Funny," and Mayo in "The Sharkmaster."

Beginning tomorrow and continuing through the remainder of the week Tom Mix and Edith Roberts will be shown in their newest film creations. Mix will appear in one of his own screen creations, entitled "A Tiding Home," and Miss Roberts in "Luring Lies." The former will introduce many of the daring stunts that invariably characterize his screen productions, and there will be a touch of romance that will add materially to its worth. Miss Roberts will be seen in a strong dramatic effort that is sure to please. It's a story that has all of the elements generally found in high grade film offerings, and the handling of it will be genuinely satisfactory.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performance of "Ladies Must Live," the noted George Joane Tucker production, featuring Betty Compson, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow afternoon there will be an entire change of program.

The features for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be Florence Reed in "The Black Panther's Cub," a stirring outdoors dramatic production and "Made in Heaven," a Tom Moore production. Both these features are of the highest type and special interest is attached to the Moore picture in that it was while making that photoplay that Mr. Moore met his wife. A comedy, "The Seaside Breeze," and the International News are other film features of the bill.

Rialto, the noted Russian violinist who has scored such a hit during the first half of the week, will play all performance for the rest of the week.

RIALTO THEATRE

At the Rialto theatre beginning tomorrow afternoon will be seen the splendid James Oliver Curwood production, "The Golden Snare." This screen production ranks with "Back to God's Country" and "The River's End," which have already been seen at the Rialto. In addition to the features there will be seen Berate Love in "Pan-ny of Top Hill Trail," a comedy and the Kinograms. Don't miss it.

Pimples and boils are signs of lowered vitality

A familiar food now used to correct them

PIMPLES and blackheads (acne) and boils are often the signals of a falling off in health. "A bad acne may indicate profound debility," writes a physician connected with a number of leading New York hospitals, and "the repeated occurrence of boils should always be looked upon as an indication of lowered vitality."

It has been found from actual clinical tests that remarkable results are obtained in treating these complaints with Fleischmann's Yeast.

Today Fleischmann's Yeast is everywhere recognized as a valuable "conditioner." It is a fresh food which supplies in rich quantities the newly discovered vitamins known to be lacking from many of our foods. It thus corrects lowered vitality which is so often the underlying cause of these minor ailments.

To protect themselves against these complaints many are making Fleischmann's Yeast a part of their regular diet. It is a highly digestible food assimilated like any other fresh food. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor and the clean, wholesome taste it leaves in your mouth.

Eat Fleischmann's Yeast before or between meals—from two to three cakes a day. Only one precaution: if troubled with gas dissolve yeast first in very hot water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. You will like Fleischmann's Yeast spread on toast or crackers, dissolved in milk or fruit-juices, or just plain. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it fresh daily.

Send 4 cents in stamps for the interesting booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet." So many inquiries are coming in daily for this booklet that it is necessary to make this nominal charge to cover cost of handling and mailing. Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington Street, New York, N. Y.

The need for scientifically tested yeast

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamins preparations that contain drugs or other mixtures. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamins, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for Health is sold.

THE UNKNOWN HERO

This afternoon the body of the "unknown" soldier selected from the long line of those who fell in battle and who from the stress of circumstances were buried as "unknown," reached Washington, to be honored as typical of the heroic soldier, whether officer or private, who made the supreme sacrifice for his country and then, as it were, sank into oblivion to be forgotten? Oh! no, not forgotten, for on Friday a grateful nation will bow its head in solemn prayer and homage to this dead soldier, representing the son of every golden star mother in this republic whose boy gave his life for the flag in such a way that the identification of his remains became impossible.

November 11 has been proclaimed a holiday in honor of the unknown dead. With all due solemnity let it be so observed and while we thus pay fitting homage to the unknown dead, let us also pay due tribute to the known martyrs to the cause of world freedom and democracy; and not only to these, but also to the survivors of the conflict who had the happiness to return home after passing through the carnage and the horrors of war.

To the memory of the heroic dead let us pay due honor; and while so doing let us not forget that the real proof of our sincerity and our gratitude will be shown, not so much by what we do for the dead who ask but our fond remembrance, as by what we do in a substantial way for their brothers who survive, those who happened to escape the bursting shells, the machine gun bullets and the treacherous torpedoes while following equally the command of their superior officers in casting themselves upon the foe.

Yes, the "unknown dead" brings up a long train of ideas in which a voice seems to come from the honored tomb of the unknown to say, "True, I died for my country, but the men who fought by my side rendered fully as valiant service as did I. The only difference is, that I happened to get hit while they, assuming the same risks, escaped with their lives. But their lives were offered as truly as was mine; and now that they live, that they are back in civilian life, we need expect that the government will show due appreciation of their services, as any neglect or indifference to their needs will be a slight on our sacrifices as well as on theirs. The army that left this country for France is now divided into two parts, the known and unknown dead; and the living who survived the struggle. The gratitude of the nation to the heroic dead is best proved by its generous treatment of those who, though fighting by our side, survived the conflict and by devotion to the high principles of freedom for which we made the supreme sacrifice."

THE WORLD CONFERENCE

On Friday the conference called by President Harding for the purpose of adopting some plan to restrict the armaments of great military powers will be formally opened.

This conference being of international character has attracted world-wide attention. It is regarded as the first step towards the prevention of war. For many years, we might say many centuries past, the great powers have gone on increasing their military and naval armaments with the result that international jealousies led to combinations which finally resulted in the world war. There was then the triple alliance, which brought into being the triple entente; and unless some steps be taken to prevent a continuance of this competitive armament, the vast expenditures will go on and other wars will inevitably result.

It is to prevent competitive armaments and to restrict military operations to what is actually needed for national defense, that President Harding has called this world conference.

It is true, however, that before any decisions can be reached, a vast number of national jealousies, misunderstandings and rival international interests must be discussed and cleared up so that the leading powers may then proceed to adopt the policy of disarmament or limitation of armaments, that will be acceptable to all and at the same time eliminate a very great part of the vast expenditure now incurred for maintaining armies and navies on a war basis.

The ambitions of Japan, supposed to be bent on foreign conquests and national expansion, will come under discussion as will also the present national debts of the various countries and how Europe may be restored to normal conditions.

The European powers are very anxious to secure two concessions from the United States. One is that we shall cancel all war loans to the allied powers and the other, that we shall form some sort of an alliance with England and France that will prevent Germany from attacking either of these powers and give them greater national security with a minimum expense for defense.

These are two very important questions that do not seem to come to the purposes of the conference, but yet so far as can be judged, they are certain to be brought up for discussion and settlement if that be practical. We do not believe, however, that the American delegation to that conference will have any authority to deal with either of these questions in a manner that would exceed a recommendation to congress.

SOME BIG PROBLEMS

The approach of the arms conference brings up many speculations as to the various international questions that may come up for consideration. One of the most delicate of these will be the relations between China and

Japan and particularly the Shantung matter.

China does not want to remain any longer the "sick man of Asia," but is determined to carry out a plan of general development under the "open door" policy. Since the days of Secretary John Hay, the American policy toward China has been friendly and constructive. Japan has already declared that she fully approves the policy of the open door, which would maintain the territorial integrity of China in much the same way as the Monroe Doctrine protects the United States, and indeed the entire western hemisphere, against foreign aggression.

The primary object of the coming conference is to put a stop to military aggression everywhere and to give the nations some security against war. President Harding thinks this can be done through his plan of reduction or limitation of armaments; but others believe that it can never be done except through some international organization such as the League of Nations.

Even at the present time, France believes that eventually this country will "see the necessity" of entering the League of Nations and joining the other powers in a movement for universal peace; but so far as the League of Nations has functioned, it has had little, if any, effect in promoting world peace. This country, by an overwhelming vote of the people, has decided against entering it under present conditions, and it is not likely to reverse its attitude in the immediate future.

MORE PARKS NEEDED

In reference to the recommendation of the park department that Washington park be purchased by the city, there can be no question as to the wisdom and foresight of that advice. That park is needed and another and a bigger park is much needed in the outer highlands. In twenty-five years hence, we are likely to have to purchase areas covered by buildings and convert them into public breathing places. It is cheaper to buy the land now. With the natural growth of the city, we need more parks and each district such as the Highlands, Centralville, Belvidere, Pawtucketville, and the South End should all be provided with parks in their respective localities. It is good policy to look ahead on these matters and provide at least for immediate necessities.

SENATOR WATSON

Senator Watson of Georgia should be called upon to prove his charges that twenty-one soldiers were executed without trial on the battlefield of France, under authority of their military commanders. When asked for his proofs in support of the charge, he challenged the war department to prove that the charge was untrue. We have no doubt that this can be done but it should not be necessary in view of the reputation that this man has already acquired for drawing upon his imagination in making charges of this kind. He has proved himself to be one of the narrowest and most intolerant members of either branch of congress and he is fast developing into what might be termed a common scold and a veritable fire eater.

JAPAN

Japan is spending the equivalent of $243,519,224 on her navy in the present fiscal year. Uncle Sam is spending $125,519,079, leading even Great Britain.

On the surface, we seem to be much more in need of disarmament than Japan. But the programs are not far apart, for $1 builds a lot more in Japan than in America.

From the arms limitation conference will come many such figures. Before taking them at face value, make allowance for varying purchasing power in different countries. English often boast they can build two fighting ships for the price of our one. Probably correct, due to lower standards of living and wages.

HOME BREW DANGERS

A proud home brewer took a sample of his beer to Dr. J. M. Doran, chief prohibition chemist in Washington, D. C. "It must be at least 10 per cent," said he, "because it leaves you with an awful head in the morning." Dr. Doran took the home brew into his laboratory, tested it and found that it was not properly made and contained no alcohol at all. But it was full of poisons and continued use of it would probably result in a condition that would prove fatal. It is not true that home brew is dangerous.

"Children's Week" at the public library next week, and a program of unusual entertainment in the book line is to be offered by the librarians and their special workers engaged for the event.

And of course one Washington correspondent had to make that city a "Mecca." A good old word for all gatherings, even if continually overworked.

SEEN AND HEARD

Steve Merchant, Ladoux complains that the public is losing interest in his work. New fads always fade.

And some families quarrel over the question of whether it shall be a play-er piano or a bin full of coal.

The first snow of the season fell in Lowell, Mass., Friday morning. During the "storm," which lasted about 15 minutes, a well known Lowell man was seen mowing his lawn.

A curious thing about wireless telegraphy is the way it is affected by sunrise and sunset. Trans-Atlantic signals during the day are invariably clear, but those received at sunrise and sunset are said to be barely distinguishable.

Remember the good old Sunday-roto-ride-in-a-buggy days when the girls admired the ribbon on your whip. And a cushion was always placed on the carriage floor for those tiny feet that you couldn't see in those days of long skirts? "Dem were de happy days!"

The New Housemaid

Mrs. Smith engaged a new housemaid and was annoyed to find that the girl persisted in addressing her as "Mrs. Smith." She remonstrated and suggested that she should address her in the same way as the other maids did. "Well," said the girl, thoughtfully, "I can't call you ma'am or munt; I always call mother that. But I don't mind calling you auntie, if you like."

A Battered Purpose

"He wants two pounds of butter exactly like what you sent us last week. If it ain't exactly like that she won't take it." The grocer turned to his customer and remarked blandly: "Some people don't like particular customers, but I do. It's my delight to get them just what they want. I will attend to you in a moment, my boy." "All right," said the boy, "but be sure and get the same kind. A lot of da relations are visiting our house, and ma doesn't want 'em to come again."

Courting an Idiot

Little Eleanor gazed long and thoughtfully at the young man who was calling on her grown-up sister Kate. "May I climb up on your knee, Mr. Brown?" "Yes, of course, dear," smiled the young man, who wanted to make a hit with the family. "Want to pull my hair, eh?" "No, I want to see if I can find that word." "Word?" "What word?" asked the puzzled visitor. "I heard our Kate say this morning that if ever a man had the word 'idiot' written all over his face it was you."

Blushed for Him

An agent-minded professor invited a number of learned scholars to visit some interesting ruins in his native Scotland. He invited them to his guests he donned Highland dress for the occasion. There was to be a luncheon in a large marquee on the lawn, and when the master of the house appeared in all the glory of the kilt, the astonishment of Jane, the housemaid, was great. Thinking her master was in one of his vacant moods, she rushed upstairs, and in a few minutes reappeared on the lawn with a pair of the professor's best trousers. She blushed as she said, pointing to the bare knees of the astonished Scot: "Please, sir, you've forgotten these."

STREET HEARINGS

AT CITY HALL

At a meeting held in city hall last night several petitions relative to the widening of streets and the removal of obstructions, were taken up. The petitions were: A petition for the widening of streets, submitted by James G. Reilly, Esq., presented a petition sponsored by John J. Kelly and others, proposing that Foster terrace be widened to 10 feet, the necessary land to be taken from the east side and given to the city without cost. Petitions relative to the acceptance of streets were presented as follows: Dalton street, 250 ft. up from Farmland road, by Louis G. Polansky; Mt. Hope street, from Fifth to Sixth avenue, James Ellis; Quebec street from London to Plain, Tidewater Oil Sales Co.; Emory ave., A. Douville, and Felton street, by Edwin S. Eastman. The last named acceptance being opposed by Damas Laporte. A proposition that East Merrimack street, from Andover to Rivercliff road, be changed to Rivercliff street, was made by J. Gilbert Hill and others.

A petition to extend the sewer in Preston street a distance of 199 feet was submitted by Patrick Farrell. The repair of an overflowing sewer in Moody street was requested by Clarence I. Kimball, and the laying of a sewer in Pine street was petitioned by Frank Groves.

John Grills asked for the laying of sidewalks on Third street from Beacon to Lawrence, on both sides. Edmund Demers asked that a concrete sidewalk be laid in front of the house at 125 Lakewood ave. A sidewalk of sidewalks and children on St. James street from 49 to Meadowcroft street was petitioned by Rev. John P. Flynn.

O.N.L. A sidewalk and edgework in front of the premises at 111-23 White street was asked for by Mary Latour.

Edward J. McCarthy petitioned for a sidewalk and edgework in front of 105 Mt. Hope street and 10 feet on White street. A sidewalk of concrete and edgework on the westerly side of Jewett street from Coburn to L was asked for by M. Rindler.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I read with horror of the mad dog scare which caused the death of two little children in Lawrence and which has caused consternation among a number of other people who were bitten by the same animal. It is now reported that the Lawrence city council will not to kill all unowned dogs and force others to be muzzled. Right here in Lowell I notice many unlicensed dogs on the streets. Why wouldn't it be a good idea to start the crusade against the wandering dog in this city before such an event such as happened in our neighboring city comes to pass here. Let's look the stable before the horse is stolen— not after.

In Court Officer G. F. Stiles the superior court surely has an attaché of pleasing personality and one ready to lend a helping hand to those unfamiliar with the proceedings at the court. To the stranger and casual visitor the smiling visage of Mr. Stiles is a relief to the more stern surroundings. And then there are Roger Hurst, Fred H. Rogers and Clerk Putnam, all over-anxious to make the visits of strangers pleasant while in the building. It's like being at home and among friends when any of these men are around.

I chanced to drop in to superior court Monday and during that time snatched a visit in the jury waived session. To see the rapidity with which the legal machinery ground out but a few minutes to settle the knot which took months, and often years, to tie. Desolation and cruel and abusive treatment were the grounds most commonly named for the decrees. Conditions are surely changing from the good old days when marriage was regarded as an indissoluble contract, and not one which was to be set aside in a cold-blooded manner.

Lawrence seems to have been the fertile soil from which some of the prominent educators of the country have emerged. The late Sept. Thompson of the Boston schools was in Lawrence for a time, and his successor, Jeremiah E. Burke, was superintendent there when promoted to the board of Boston superintendents. John J. Mahoney, principal of the State Normal school, is a Lawrence boy, born and bred, while John I. Donovan, master of the A. B. Bruce school down the river, is principal of the K. of C. evening school here. Messrs. Mahoney and Donovan are comparatively young in the educational field but Lowell people believe that some day they will sit along the ladder like Messrs. Thompson and Burke, for ability must be recognized.

I am told that to signalize the holiday, the Knights of Columbus will hold an Armistice night celebration and get-together on Thursday evening. Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, prime favorite with the Knights, will deliver an address on the significance of the day. Grand Knight Hart says a fine entertainment will also be provided and a collation served. It is expected that the capacity of the quarters will be taxed.

With Peter W. Collins, the noted lecturer, here tonight in Associate hall, the Knights of Columbus fall and winter program seems to be on in full swing. Mr. Collins is an able exponent of many fine ideals as against the pernicious doctrines of socialism and radicalism and his talk tonight, which is free to the public, ought to be illuminating indeed.

Jeremiah E. Burke, the new head of the Boston schools, is not only an educator and a scholar of profound education but a lecturer and speaker of note, whose addresses heard locally were masterly efforts, reflecting the deep student that he is. It is not a far cry back to the days when he was superintendent of schools in Lawrence and a frequent visitor to Lowell. Lately his work in Boston has kept him from this city, the last public appearance being before Blahod Delany assembly, Fourth Degree, K. of C.

One of the oldest so-called "medicine men" who used to travel about the country selling cure-alls under kerosene flare lamps, is gone to his reward. Remember the nights years ago when Grandpa Stetson came around? He was a familiar figure in New England towns in the '70s.

The members of the Legion are highly appreciative of the excellent work performed during the past year by Adjutant Robert J. Rutledge. When the latter was re-nominated at the meeting Monday night the assembly accorded him a generous hand and nobody desired to oppose the popular secretary for the office. Hence nominations were closed and the field was left clear for the present incumbent.

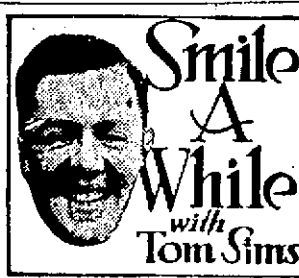

The sessions at the local district court have been unusually brief this week. I notice, this is due, I am told, to the absence of Judge Thomas J. Enright, who is enjoying a week's vacation. Judge Fisher is on the bench at present and in order to have the regular justice dispose of cases continued by Judge Enright, no postponed cases are being tried this week.

I notice that there is an interesting contest in Legion circles for the command of the Lowell post. Senator Vice-Commander Stephen Curds Garity and James H. Hignin, the two candidates for that high office, are well known among ex-service men in this city and each has a large following. Their nominations were well received at the meeting Monday night. The election is to take place on the first Monday of December.

Met Abraham Rancan today. Mr. Rancan, who is a Salem attorney, is connected with the veteran's bureau at Boston and is in charge of the clean-up squad that is working here this week. The squad is at the service of local disabled veterans who have claims against the government. They are quartered in the rooms of the Red Cross on Merrimack street. Mr. Rancan is highly impressed with the reception and treatment he is receiving in this city and tells me it is a great relief coming to a hospitable city like Lowell after being quartered for months in small towns where hotel accommodations are not of the best and means of entertainment are very limited.

EXCESS TEMPERATURE. PHILADELPHIA, November 8.—The largest accumulation of excess heat in the history of the local temperature bureau has been recorded this year according to the official forecast. The excess at present amounts to 217 degrees, surpassing by more than 200 degrees the previous high mark for the month of March, with an excess of 356 degrees, lead this month.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem Relatively Speaking

If you're sure you'll continue to love her, When, after the honeymoon's through, You find—as most husbands discover— Her ways were too good to be true; If you won't mind her wearing a wrapper Or putting cold cream on her brow; If you're sure you won't jump up and slap her For some slight domestic row;

If you think you'll continue to love him When, after the honeymoon's end, The idiosyncrasies of him Provo quite an astonishing blend; If you think you can stand him unshaven And smoking a reeking duoden; If you won't mind the way he'll behave in 'The days you are "getting things clean;"

If you won't mind his being quite human And sometimes a little bit less; If you won't mind her being a woman Instead of an angel, I guess, In spite of some intervals sorappy, Some boredom and friction and jar, You'll find yourselves fully as happy As average married folks are!

Among those things to be thankful for, what have you to be thanked for?

This paint washes like tile

All dirt quickly removed from walls and woodwork painted with Barreled Sunlight

NO matter how hard you scrub the dust and dirt from ordinary paint some trace or smudge will remain. Washing seems to make much of it "sink in" still further.

The reason is that the surface of ordinary paint is not really smooth but full of tiny pores—of little holes and crevices—the naked eye cannot see. In this porous surface dust and dirt, smudges and finger-marks cling.

Barreled Sunlight is a white paint made by a special process which produces a smooth, lustrous finish that can be washed like tile.

It costs less than enamel, requires fewer coats and remains white longer. Anyone can apply it with ease. It flows readily and leaves no brush marks.

In hotels, apartments, restaurants, stores—all interiors where light and cleanliness are desired—use Barreled Sunlight.

GRAFTERS AND CROOKS ESCAPE TRIAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—War-time profiteers, crooks and sharpers, who defrauded the government of millions of dollars in connection with war construction and supplies, unless they already have been indicted or convinced will face no prosecution.

They are as free from any criminal action as though they had been tried and acquitted.

They may later find themselves defendants in suits brought by the government to recover money paid on fraudulent deals or illegal contracts, but these can be only suits which will put no one behind prison bars.

Expiration of the three-year limit, within which any criminal action, not capital, must be instituted, has shut the door to prosecution.

Except perhaps in a few scattering cases in which frauds against the government were committed in adjusting war contracts, following the signing of the armistice, the government, by inaction, has forfeited its right to prosecute and punish.

The department of justice will not give out any estimate as to the number of cases in which immunity is bestowed because of the inactivity of that department in beginning prosecution.

Guy D. Goff, assistant to the attorney general, has been placed in charge of prosecutions and investigations growing out of war activities.

The special committee of congress which investigated war expenditures reported almost 20 months ago that "in the judgment of the committee enough irregularities and fraudulent practices have been uncovered" to warrant prompt and rigorous prosecution in scores of cases.

The construction of army camps alone the committee declared there had been a leakage of approximately $80,000,000.

Many expenditures, the report declares, "were obviously tainted with fraud."

VENTILATION

Dr. Bishop Tells Way to Air Your Home

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

People can live without food for days and without water for hours, but without air—only a few minutes. It is readily seen then that the air supply is of prime importance.

The mere construction of the proper kind of buildings does not insure good ventilation. The most important features of ventilation are motion, coolness and the proper degree of humidity and freshness.

Most people are unreasonably afraid of air in motion or drafts. A gentle draft is really one of the best friends which the sincere seeker of health can find. Of course, a strong draft directed against some exposed part of the body, causing a local chill for any length of time, is naturally undesirable.

But the ordinary draft resulting from good ventilation is healthful. The best sort of ventilation is usually to be had through the windows. It is advisable to keep windows open almost always in summer and often in winter.

Whenever practicable, one should have an entrance for fresh air and an exit for stale air at opposite sides of the room. Where there cannot be a cross-current of air such as this, circulation may be established by opening a window both at top and bottom.

Window boards, simple means for letting air in during the winter, deflecting it upward so that the air will reach the breathing zone without chilling the feet, are excellent. For the lack of such simple things most people go through an entire winter without raising a window.

When it is necessary to be saving of gas or coal, a partial substitute for ventilation can be secured through an electric fan.

The importance of coolness of air is almost as little appreciated as the importance of motion of air. Most people enervate themselves by heat, especially in winter.

The temperature of living rooms and work rooms should never go above 70 degrees and for young people and those who have not lost largely in vigor, a temperature of 6 to 10 degrees lower is preferable. Heat is depressing. It lowers both mental and muscular efficiency.

In the cold season, indoor air is often too dry and may be moistened to advantage. This may be done to some extent by heating water in large pans or open pots.

In very cold, dry weather, the air supply of an ordinary medium-sized house requires the addition of not less than 10 gallons of moisture every 24 hours and sometimes much more.

THE MARVELS OF THE TELEPHONE

Manager Charles J. Leathers of the local telephone exchange gave a very interesting and instructive illustrated lecture on "The Marvels of the Telephone" before a large and appreciative audience in the vestry of the Chelmsford Centre Unitarian church last evening. The affair was given under the auspices of the Laymen's league and was very successful in every way.

In the course of his lecture, which was featured by about 20 slides, Mr. Leathers told of the wonderful development of the science of telephony from its inception to the present day, bringing back to the memory of his listeners the experimental work of Prof. Alexander Graham Bell in the electrical shop of Charles Williams in Court street, Boston, in 1875. He traced the evolution of the telephone up to the present time, telling of the latest inventions such as the wireless telephone, the loud speaking telephone, which amplifies the sound to cover an audience of over 100,000 and the recent opening of telephone conversation with Cuba by cable. Prior to the lecture a couple of pleasing violin selections were given by E. W. Daly, while Bertram Noll entertained with vocal selections.

GIRLS' CITY CLUB NEWS

Mrs. Mark De Silva has been appointed the chairman of the Women's advisory committee. Some time ago when the committee was formed representatives of the various women's organizations of the city were on the board. Mrs. De Silva came from the Women's college club. She has always been popular with the girls and her appointment is greeted with delight.

At a recent meeting of the club it was decided to have a Christmas sale of fancy articles. This will probably take place in the second week of December. Miss Norron Graffan is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

On the Friday before Thanksgiving the Girls' club will conduct a food sale. As these sales have been very popular in the past it is hoped that this one will be equally successful. It is being held to help defray the expenses of the plans which the club has offered its rooms to the county farm bureau for an all day meeting of their clothing efficiency department. The public is cordially invited.

The last Sunday of each month has been set aside as Mothers' day. Mothers' day is in the hands of the social committee of which Elizabeth Buzzell is the chairman. On these days two girls will act as hostesses.

A new dance committee has been formed and Mildred Buzzell has been appointed chairman. She will be assisted by a rotating committee. While the dances will still have the director and two matrons present the entire control and discipline will be in the hands of the committee.

The gymnasium classes have started with a good attendance. More may join the classes by registering with the chairman of the committee Catherine Parry. The classes are held at the high school gymnasium every Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

On Thursday, Nov. 10, the Girls' club has offered its rooms to the county farm bureau for an all day meeting of their clothing efficiency department. The public is cordially invited.

Clean Child's Bowels with

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. ## CHARACTER

CLEANUP SQUAD CHIEF HERE

Dennis Haverly of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau Gets Busy in Lowell

Squad Has Been Here Since Monday Helping Ex-Servicemen

Chief Satisfied With Conditions Here—Office to be Closed All Day Friday

Dennis Haverly, chief of the New England cleanup squad of the U. S. bureau, is in Lowell today supervising and assisting one of the squads that has been here since Monday helping ex-servicemen with their claims against the government. Following a conference with Abraham Rose, who is in charge of the Lowell squad, Chief Haverly announced this morning the office will be closed all day Friday, but veterans will be assisted again on Saturday, the office to be open from 9 till 11. The New England chief expressed complete satisfaction with the manner in which the work is being carried out in Lowell, particularly in the case of the valuable assistance given the squad by the local branch of the Red Cross. More than 300 cases so far have come to the squad's attention and by the end of the week Mr. Haverly thinks fully 400 veterans will have been aided in this work. Again, he wishes to emphasize the squad's work is not limited to Lowell ex-servicemen but also to residents of all nearby towns.

Had it not been for the excellent system maintained by the Red Cross in reference to records and data the work of the squad would have been very difficult, Mr. Haverly said this morning, commenting on the efficient aid given him and his men by the men and women attached to the local Red Cross branch. He also felt very grateful for the valuable assistance given by The Lowell Sun in promoting the veterans' project. The squad will leave here Saturday, resuming its work in Salem, Gloucester and Newburyport next week.

The object of the clean-up squad is to assist world war veterans who wish to file disability claims whose claims have been adjusted unsatisfactorily or who desire information relative to compensation, vocational training, allotment, government insurance or medical treatment.

The purpose of the squad visiting the smaller cities is to expedite the work and facilitate matters for local men, who otherwise would have to go to Boston a number of times before receiving final adjustment.

$360,000 MAIL ROBBERY PLOT

"Big Tim" Murphy, Chicago Union Leader and Alleged Gunman Found Guilty

Three Others Also Convicted by Judge in the Federal Court

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—"Big Tim" Murphy, leader, former state representative, and alleged gunman, was found guilty today by a jury in federal court of plotting the $360,000 mail robbery at Dearborn station last April. Vincenzo Cosmano, union president, and protégé of Murphy, Edward Geira, alleged driver of the bandits' car, and Paul Volanti also were convicted.

Nearly all the loot was recovered by postal inspectors in a trunk in the garage at the home of Murphy's father-in-law, who with several other defendants, is waiting trial.

Murphy, with a spectacular career in gang, union and political circles, was arrested with Cosmano and several others last year charged with the murder of "Boss" Elmer, known as the "King of Gunmen." After several months in jail they were released when important state's witnesses could not be found.

LADD PROPERTY LEASED VISITOR FROM ORIENT

Waldorf System Leases Property in Merrimack Square and Paige Street

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Ella P. Ladd, through her attorney, Frank E. Dunbar, delivered to Waldorf system, incorporated, a lease of the store in Merrimack square for many years occupied as a saloon by the late Thomas H. Doyle, and later by John J. Regan.

The property leased covers about 4200 square feet and includes, in addition to the store in Merrimack street, now occupied by various stores, by building across Pollard avenue, these two properties can be made to connect, as this avenue was closed some years ago by action of all the abutters thereon.

Provision is made for the construction of a small passageway from Paige street leading to the rear of Merrimack street stores. Future development of the property will not be retarded by the lease, inasmuch as the landlord reserves the right to rebuild the property at any time during the term of the lease.

The present stairway projecting into Merrimack street will be abolished, together with the iron railing surrounding it which has long been a favorite leaning place for some of our citizens.

It is obvious that the appearance of the square will be greatly improved as a result of this lease.

STRANGER IS ELECTED MAYOR

Man Who Lived in Youngstown Three Months Wins Over All Candidates

Would Halt Street Cars and Use jitneys — Favored "Spoonin'" in Parks

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Nov. 9.—A man who has lived in Youngstown only three months and whose platform provided for discontinuance of street car service, turning the streets over to the jitney buses and for filling any citizen who paid taxes under a recent revaluation yesterday was elected mayor over candidates backed by the major party organizations.

He is George L. Oles who came in from the country, established a residence in a hotel and carried on a centric advertising campaign without the support of any particular element or organization.

Other planks in Oles' platform included permitting "spooning" in city parks under police protection; dismissing the entire police force if it "doesn't mend its ways" and a promise to turn over his salary to charity.

The women's vote is believed to have been responsible for Oles' election.

LOWELL MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

John Temple Was Broken-Hearted Because His Wife Left Him and He Turned On the Gas

HAD GAS TUBE IN HIS MOUTH

Neighbors Break Down the Door and Summon Medical Assistance

Would-be-Suicide Had Razor
Handy—Doctors Say He May Live

Determined to end his life because his wife left him, John Temple, 25, of 434 Merrimack street, attempted suicide in his flat this morning by inhaling illuminating gas. His attempt was frustrated by neighbors who smelled gas, broke down the door and called medical assistance. Temple was taken to the Lowell Corporation hospital in an unconscious condition and although on the dangerous list, it is said he may recover.

Temple was found lying on the floor of the kitchen with a gas tube connected with the range, in his mouth. On the floor near his head, the police found a razor, which, it is believed, Temple intended to slash himself with if the gas failed to work. On one side of his body on the floor was a picture of his wife, while on the other side lay a picture of their three-year-old son.

According to the police, Temple and his wife had been having some trouble. About 10 o'clock this morning Mrs. Temple went to a jewelry store in the same building, the police say, and inquired about a watch she had left there for repairs. When informed the watch was ready she said she would go upstairs and get some money. She took all the money in the house, the police allege, returned to the store, got the watch and disappeared. It was following this that Temple committed his act.

Shortly after 11 o'clock women in the building smelled gas. Upon investigation it was found to be coming from the Temple apartment on the third floor. The women tried the door but found both it and all the windows locked, with the shades tightly drawn. The women ran down into the street and stopped Fred Barrett, a passerby, who broke down the door and found Temple.

In the meantime the police had been notified and Officer Joseph L. Lamoreaux was sent to the scene. The ambulance was called and Temple taken to the hospital. The police are investigating the case.

ACCIDENT HEARING AT CITY HALL

Chairman William C. Kennard of the Industrial accident board presided over a hearing at city hall this morning in the case of Mrs. Elizabeth McMenimon vs. the Travelers' Insurance Co., an action brought by Mrs. McMenimon in an endeavor to recover additional compensation for injuries she received while at her work at the United States Cartridge Co. on Nov. 28, 1919.

The hearing was held in the Aldermanic chamber and Mrs. McMenimon was questioned at length by her counsel, Patrick J. Reynolds, and cross-examined by counsel for the insurance company and the chairman of the hearing. It seems that on the morning of Nov. 28, 1919, Mrs. McMenimon, an elderly lady, fell on a slippery floor and sustained a fracture of the right arm and wrist. From the date of the accident up to May 11, 1920, the woman received compensation, but on the last date her compensation ceased, because the doctor for the insurance company reported that the woman was able to return to work. Mrs. McMenimon claims that she has not been able to return to work, and accordingly is endeavoring to recover compensation for the whole period she has been idle. The matter was taken under advisement.

Mayor Hylan's Plurality Large-

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Democratic candidates, headed by Mayor John F. Hylan, made a clean sweep of the principal city and county offices in yesterday's municipal election, the mayor receiving the unprecedented plurality of 417,086.

The highest previous democratic plurality was that of former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, who carried the city over Gov. Miller by 313,323 in last year's election.

Hall and All City Departments

City hall and all city departments will be closed all day Friday, in observance of Armistice day. This action was taken at an adjourned meeting of the municipal council held this forenoon. In the course of the meeting, Commissioner Salmon was authorized to enter into a contract with the Middlesex Machine Co. for the laying of a water pipe across the Central bridge, the cost to be charged up to the bridge appropriation. This meeting was called to order at 11

TRIBUTE TO WAR DEAD

Salute Usually Accorded the President — 21 Guns — Greets Cruiser in Potomac

Body to be Turned Over to Hero Escort This Afternoon at Washington Navy Yard

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Her progress up the Potomac river marked by periodic rendition of the salute usually accorded the chief executive—21 guns—the cruiser Olympia brought to his homeland today the unknown soldier—representative of thousands of American soldier dead overseas.

The program designed to express the nation's honor for its war dead, began when the Olympia turned this morning into the wide reaches of the Potomac. The battleship North Dakota lying at anchor off the Piney Point entrance to the river, dipped her ensign in salutation as her guns tolled welcome. As the cruiser proceeded toward her berth at the Washington navy yard, Fort Washington and Washington barracks signalled her passage, each with the presidential salute of 21 guns.

The Olympia was scheduled to dock about 4 o'clock this afternoon. The casket bearing the remains of the man who fell, unknown but undaunted will be given at the dock to the hero escort which will accompany it to Arlington Friday.

The sun will shine on the burial of America's unknown soldier. Armistice day, the weather bureau indicated today.

High officials and officers of the war and navy departments will meet the Olympia when she docks at the Washington navy yard and completes the charge entrusted to her at Havre. Both Secretaries Weeks and Denby and their aides will be among the party as well as Admiral Conz, chief of naval operations and Major General Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps with their respective aides.

Eight members of house military committee were appointed today by Chairman Kahn to represent it at the burial of the unknown soldier. They are Representatives: Greene, Vermont; James, Michigan; Hill, Maryland; Wurzbach, Texas; Frothingham, Massachusetts and Quinn, Mississippi; Fisher, Tennessee and Stoll, South Carolina.

WEIGHING OF EARTH'S ELEMENTS PUZZLING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 9.—The atomic weights of nearly forty of the lighter or more chemical elements out of which everything in the universe is built have been definitely determined by Harvard chemists in the course of investigations begun 35 years ago and extending up to the present time.

Attention was called to this prolonged research by the announcement that largely on account of his work in this field, Professor Theodore W. Richards, Nobel prize winner in 1914 and director of the Woburn Gibbs Memorial laboratory at Harvard, had been appointed a member of the international committee of scientists on elements, while Professor Gregory P. Baxter, formerly a pupil of Professor Richards and now an independent investigator at Harvard, had been chosen for the international committee on atomic weights.

The Harvard research is said to have thrown new light on the perplexing problem of the nature of matter, while data obtained are being used daily by thousands of chemists throughout the world.

The atomic weights of the elements are described as the relative weights in which these elements combine with each other to form the countless substances of which the universe is constructed. These weights have usually been found to be amazingly constant. Silver from all parts of the world and from many different ores has always the same atomic weight. Copper from Europe is identical in this respect with that mined under the bottom of Lake Superior.

Professor Baxter's work long since proved that iron and nickel which fall from the sky in meteorites coming from the spaces far beyond the earth's orbit have exactly the same atomic weights as iron and nickel from the earth, a fact cited as indicating in one respect, at least, the unity of the universe.

The most important single result of the Harvard study of atomic weights is said to be the discovery, first proved definitely some years ago by Professor Richards and still holding good through recent careful tests, that there exist at least two kinds of lead instead of one. It was found that lead from radium minerals, while it possesses properties exactly similar to those of ordinary lead, has a distinctly smaller atomic weight, 206.1 as against 207.2.

The lead from the radium minerals is supposed to come from the decomposition of radium. Why its atomic weight is different from that of ordinary lead, whether ordinary lead may not itself prove to be a mixture of lighter lead with a heavier variety, perhaps due to the disintegration of the element thorium, and whether other elements, hitherto supposed to be final and indivisible, may not also prove to be mixtures and thus open up to a whole series of new problems as to the composition of matter, are questions to which the answers are being eagerly sought by scientists over the world today.

Professor W. D. Harkins of Chicago has strong evidence that ordinary chlorine is a mixture, and F. W. Aston of Cambridge, England, by an entirely different method, indicates that many other elements are probably likewise composed of atoms of different weights. Harvard chemists are working at present to try to find out more about these two kinds of lead, but they are hampered by the fact that once mixed, the two kinds cannot by any ordinary chemical methods be separated.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WORLD?

The much talked of lecture by Peter W. Collins, "What's Wrong With the World," will be delivered in Associate Hall this evening, under the auspices of Lowell's council, the Society of Columbus, and will be free to the public at large.

The noted lecturer, who has been an active labor leader for many years and served the government during the late war in the capacity of an industrial expert, is well qualified to speak on the problems which confront the United States at the present time, particularly those of an economic or sociological nature. After discussing these subjects thoroughly, Mr. Collins will answer any questions from the audience that may be asked.

WILL OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY

The observance of Armistice day by the Lowell high school will be held Thursday at 11 o'clock in Kelt's theatre. A particularly interesting program has been arranged under the capable direction of Miss Mary C. Joyce. As the theatre cannot seat the entire school, half of the freshmen class will not attend the exercises. The freshmen who did not attend the Columbus day exercises will attend the exercises tomorrow.

FIND FOR DEFENDANT
A finding for the defendant was brought in yesterday in the superior court in the case of Police Officer Jerome P. Cullen against the City of Lowell. The officer sought to recover $163 as compensation for alleged injuries he received on the force a few years ago.

HEAD COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Itched Badly. Baby Cried At Night. Cuticura Heals.

"My baby's head was covered with hard, red pimples. They itched so badly that she scratched them until they developed into sore eruptions. Her hair began to fall out, and at night she cried and kept me awake. I tried different remedies without relief until I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After one week's use I saw a great improvement, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment she was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. M. De Stefano, 76 French St., Bridgeport, Conn., May 11, 1921.

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum exclusively for every-day toilet purposes.

SIX-WHEEL TRUCK BEATS TRAIN IN SHORT HAUL

The nation need have no fear of a famine in the eventuality of a railroad strike.

For trucks and truck haulage have attained such a degree of efficiency as to assure the country of continued food supply if rail transportation stops.

The 420 miles were covered in 14 hours and 10 minutes, an average of 29 miles an hour. The truck carried five tons of freight.

The Southern Pacific railroad, over a slightly longer route, makes this same trip in 14 hours and 10 minutes. East passenger trains between New York and Pittsburgh, about the same distance, make the trip in 10 hours and 20 minutes.

Counting the time it takes for freight transfer at terminals and haulage by slower freight trains, the motor trip proves itself much faster than rail transportation.

This truck recently completed a trip from Akron to Los Angeles in seven days and a half, actual running time.

THE GERMAN EXPLOSION

Homeless German children, some of them injured, haunt the sites of their former homes, ruined in the big explosion at Oppau, Germany.

Luxury taxes and war funds have increased hotel bills in Italy by 20 per cent.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up kidney deposits are dissolved and the Toxins (poisons) completely driven out. "Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning of your kidneys." Don't neglect them. When your back aches, have darting pains, dizziness, headaches, bad stomach and tongue, annoying bladder troubles, cloudy urine, rheumatism, puffy eyes, specks, or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, Kidney Trouble in its worst form may be stealing upon you. Never mind the failures of the past, insist upon having, at once, a bottle of guaranteed Dr. Carey's Marsh-Rose Prescription No. 717. (Liquid or Tablet form) from Fred Howard, 181 Central St., A. W. Dows' drug store or any other reliable druggist for Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away; they will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfeeling certainty. Every good druggist has been authorized to refund purchase price on two bottles to all who state they have had no benefit.—Adv.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 9.—After 22 years of uninterrupted power, the republican administration in Albany city and county, were wiped out in yesterday's local democratic landslide. In addition to electing William S. Hackett mayor, by a plurality of more than 6,000, the democrats won every place on the city ticket and are believed to have captured 15 of the 19 seats in the board of aldermen.

The democratic county ticket also was successful all along the line, and two of the three assembly districts were lost to the republicans.

"Cleveland some day will elect me its mayor," he told friends.

Arguments On Motions Postponed

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Arguments on motions of Daniel H. Coakley and William J. Corcoran, attorneys, against whom disbarment petitions are pending, were postponed today until next Monday because of the illness of Supreme Court Justice Edward P. Pierce. The announcement was made by Judge Jenney. Counsel for the Boston Bar association in the case of Daniel V. McIsaac, whose disbarment is sought with the others by the association told the court that by agreement McIsaac's case had been taken off the list for the present. McIsaac has made answer to the petition with a general denial. Motions by Coakley that the case against him be transferred to the superior court, and by Corcoran for permission to resign from the bar as he is now a resident of New York are before the court.

British Do Not Prove in Film That They Won at Jutland

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The film version of the Battle of Jutland has arrived in America. It presents a nice lesson for the deliberators on armaments who are meeting at Washington. In 45 minutes one sees how millions of dollars of property representing years of human endeavor went down to the bottom of the sea.

One sees, too, how the men who manned those vessels, Germans and English, humans all, died in the hellish blast of war like trapped rats are drowned.

Imagination is needed to make the film that realistic, for the battle is re-enacted with miniature ships, with glimpses of battleships in action, interlarded occasionally to help the imagination.

Three years were spent in filming the re-enactment of the battle. Logs of both German and English vessels were studied to get the true maneuvers of Admirals Jellicoe, Beatty, Scheer and Hüller.

This writer knows little about military strategy beyond the squad movements and the best tactics for getting a place at the head of the mass line. However, it appeared to him that if Admiral Beatty and his six cruisers hadn't been on the job, Admiral Jellicoe and the entire English fleet would have been wiped from the face of the sea.

And if a battle can be won defensively, the Germans won the Battle of Jutland as the English film depicts it.

The English attacked. The Germans retreated to their mine fields with less loss than that suffered by Jellicoe's fleet.

This film is of especial interest to minds which respond to the intricacies of chess and checkers. This writer saw the picture within an hour after its arrival in America. It will be generally released within several weeks by Educational.

Investors in Willard motion picture stocks and production schemes lost $50,000 this year, according to Martin J. Quigley, chairman of a vigilance committee appointed by recognized producers. Most of that sum was taken from small investors, widows and working women seeking to get rich quickly.

The vigilance committee has been promised the support of the American Bankers association in suppressing fake movie stock and studio schemes. When you are asked to invest in any movie project, ask your banker's advice.

Charles Urban, who maintains a film library like a morgue in a newspaper office, has prepared a Kinetograph called "Permanent Peace." All of the leaders in the disarmament conference are shown. Pictures are shown of Roosevelt and Wilson when they were dominant in the peace projects of the world. Battlefields and the immense armies and navies of the nations are also shown. It is a graphic visualization of the world's need for disarmament.

Bill Hart appears as a Beau Brummel of the Mississippi frontier days in "White Oak." He makes a picturesque character and thus gives promise of fitting into the role of Patrick Henry, which he will portray in the costume of the Revolutionary period.

In "White Oak" Hart rides a horse, coddles a dog and kills a tribe of Indians and several white men. It's a typical Hart picture, with an extra portion of Hart. After seeing it one wonders how Bill will be able to get along as Patrick Henry without horse or six-shooter.

CUT! CUT! CUT!
Claire Adams and Carl Gantvoort are to be featured in the screen version of Kane Grey's "Wild Fire."

Another silly little change-screen version of Harriet T. Comstock's "Marm'selle Jo" has been named "Silent Years."

New York physicians have formed a society for the advancement of medicine and surgery by means of motion pictures.

"Over the Hill" is to be exhibited in Shanghai, Singapore, and Interior Russia. The movie speaks Esperanto, as "Ivree."

LICENSE COMMISSION
The license commission held a brief meeting last night granting a number of minor permits and tabling several others for further consideration.

The application of John Harrigan, of 291 Chelmsford street, for a billiards and pool license, was given leave to withdraw. The application of Henry Barnstein for a lodging house at 1215 Middlesex street and of Victor Levesque for pool and billiards at 43 Merrimack street were tabled for one week.

The following permits were granted: Common victualler, Henry W. Alford, 303 Moody street; express, Sokolakis Brothers, 378 Market street and Virgil W. Griffee, 108 Church street; lodging house, Margaret Sullivan, 207 Worthen street; public amusement for dancing, Nerves It Mahtesian, 120 Central street; to sell ice cream on the Lord's day, Thomas A. Skahan, 1208 Gorham street, John J. Hyde, 655 Chelmsford street and Edgar Fortier, 122 Alken street.

EXCITEMENT IN VERNON STREET
Visions of a trunk containing, perhaps the body of a slain person, being lowered from a house into an automobile ready to convey it to parts unknown, entered the minds of police officers on duty at the station late last night when a phone call from a Vernon street resident summoned the police to that street to investigate the "lowering of a bundle from a third story window to the street." And a machine, to complete the story, was standing in the street apparently ready to whisk away whatever was being removed from the house.

Sergt. Higelow and a squad of patrolmen put out for the locality. They arrived there in 11½ time, but the lowering operation had been completed and there were no signs of any bun- dles, mysterious or otherwise, or rope with which anything might have been lowered into the street. The waiting automobile was still waiting, however, and the police at once investigated its business. The occupants of the car then revealed the deeply shrouded mystery. A cat had caused all the excitement. It seems that a kitten belonging to someone on that street had made it a nightly habit of scaling this house to the third floor piazza and then entering the house. The occupants of this abode are fond of pets, but apparently did not take kindly to this particular little stranger. For a few nights the usual performance of seizing the cat and taking him down three flights of stairs to the street was carried out but last night when the kitten put in its appearance a novel idea dawned on the mistress of the house. She attached a rope to a basket, placed the cat in it and out of the window she lowered it. Neighbors across the street gazed and gasped. What could it be? Little time was lost. The police were sent for. Following the investigation the disturbed neighbors were assured that there was nothing the matter with Vernon street.

OLD RESIDENT GIVES FACTS TO PUBLIC

MRS. JANET WILKINS SAYS SHE EATS ANYTHING, HAS GAINED IN WEIGHT AND FEELS FINE

"If I could I would tell everybody personally what Tanlac has done for me and what a grand medicine it is," declared Mrs. Janet Wilkins, 18 Northampton st., Boston. Mrs. Wilkins has resided in Boston for 36 years and is highly esteemed by all who know her. "For eight years I suffered misery from stomach trouble, and at times it seemed like I just couldn't stand it any longer. My appetite was so poor I could eat scarcely anything. I had to resort to the very lightest of food, and even then I suffered agony. I bloated with gas until I could hardly get my breath, and became so weak and faint it alarmed me. My nerves were shattered, my sleep was restless and broken, and I was so weak and worn out that my housework was drudgery for me.

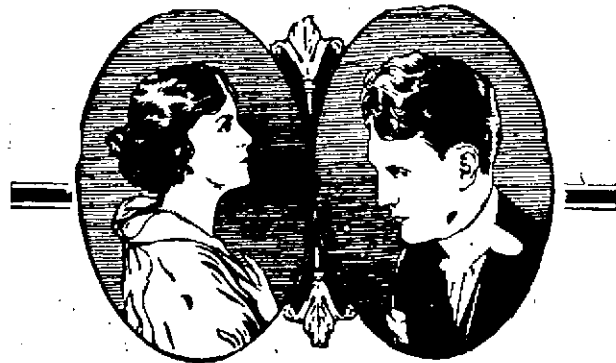

"My first bottle of Tanlac helped me so much that I lost no time in getting another, and I kept improving at such a rapid rate that four bottles have made me perfectly well again. I am eating more heartily than ever before, everything agrees with me, and I have gained a number of pounds in weight. I haven't an ailment of any kind now, sleep like a child at night, and find my housework a pleasure. I just think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world."

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's Drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright, Druggist, Lowell, Mass.; A. D. Falls, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

HELEN DAVIS and VICTOR YOUNG

This is a golden opportunity for Lowell to hear the famous mezzo-soprano and the popular composer-pianist. Assisting them will be Samuel Hungerford, well-known violinist.

The appearance of these favorite artists here makes it possible to perform an interesting musical experiment. In some of the numbers, they will compare their art with its RE-CREATION by Mr. Edison's new phonograph.

Foch Official Guest of State of Ohio

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—Refreshed after a day of unbroken rest, Marshal Foch today became the official guest of the state of Ohio, the Ohio department of the American Legion and the city of Cleveland. Tens of thousands of school children, each with French and American flags, formed a lane through which the marshal rode down Euclid avenue. The marshal was received at the local American Legion headquarters where he was presented with a scroll setting forth the welcome of Cleveland Legionnaires and at noon was to address a civic meeting. Marshal Foch was to be the recipient of an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Western Reserve university this afternoon.

35-cent Bottle Ends all Dandruff, Stops Hair Coming Out

Ten minutes after using Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow long, strong and luxuriant. One application of Danderine makes thin, lifeless, colorless hair look youthfully bright, lustrous, and just twice as abundant.—Adv.

KING TO DISCUSS IRISH SITUATION

Speech of Prorogation Said to Deal Almost Exclusively
With Ireland

All Parties to Irish Negotiations
Engaged in Informal
Parleys Yesterday

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Forecasts of the king's speech proroguing parliament which it is thought will be delivered tomorrow are to the effect that it deals almost exclusively with the Irish situation.

Prorogation of parliament tomorrow, together with the fact that Friday is Armistice day, probably will force a postponement until Monday of official conversations between Premier Lloyd George and members of the Ulster cabinet.

All the parties to the negotiations engaged in informal parleys yesterday.

The report continues that, should the Ulsterites be unable to reconcile their views with those of Mr. Lloyd George, he will offer his resignation as prime minister.

RAILROAD MEN DISCUSS WAGES

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 8th, 1921.
Mr. Editor: In refutation of some of the unfair propaganda so ardently put out by the "Association of Railway Executives," and, printed as news items, by so many of our newspapers but not in The Lowell Sun, to educate the public and "guard" them against the sinister aims of the railroad brotherhoods, will you kindly publish a few facts gathered from governmental sources which tend to refute the arguments used against the railroad men during the late unpleasantness.

The table compiled by the United States department of labor conclusively shows how far behind the cost of living the wages of union labor trailed even during, and since the war period when "high" wages have prevailed.

The comparison is made with 1913 as the base in 1913:

Year	Wage Rate	Cost of Living
1913	100	100
1914	102	103
1915	105	108
1916	108	115
1917	112	125
1918	120	145
1919	135	175
1920	145	215
1921	155	245

The peak was reached in 1920 with the wages of union labor showing an increase of 55 per cent. and the cost of living an increase of 145 per cent. over 1913 and during the period from 1913 to 1920, did the wages received by organized labor equal the steadily increasing costs of living, but rather lagged far behind.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, it is impossible to reconcile these facts taken from the reports of the United States government with the false position taken by the executives committee, when they state that wages and especially railroad wages are the cause of the high cost of living and the high freight rates. We recognize the authority of the United States government as expressed, not only by the wage labor board but also by the United States department of labor.

Respectfully submitted,
PUBLICITY COMMITTEE
BROTHERHOODS T. R. M.

Hylan Wins by 417,086

missioner of elections, declared it was one of the quietest elections in his career. No serious disturbance was reported.

In every borough the coalition candidates went down under an avalanche of democratic votes, the mayor's plurality in each case exceeding the total vote cast for Curran. In the Bronx, he led by more than 3 to 1.

Hylan Ahead of Ticket
Mayor Hylan ran away ahead of his ticket, leading Dock Commissioner Murray Hulbert, successful democratic candidate for president of the board of aldermen, his nearest rival, by about 131,000 votes.

State Senator Charles C. Lockwood, republican candidate for comptroller, led the coalition ticket, receiving approximately 55,000 votes more than Mr. Curran, but nearly 250,000 less than his successful democratic rival.

The ticket elected was:
Mayor—John F. Hylan
Comptroller—Charles I. Craig
President of the board of aldermen—Murray Hulbert.

President borough of Manhattan—Julius Miller.
President borough of Brooklyn—Edward P. Hegelmann.

President borough of Bronx—Henry Brown.
President borough of Queens—Maurice E. Connolly.

President borough of Richmond—Matthew J. Cahill.

The smashing democratic triumph gives the party all the votes on the important board of estimate and apportionment, which consists of the mayor, comptroller, president of the board of aldermen and five borough presidents. The democratic also are assured of a heavy majority in the board of aldermen.

Big Slump in Socialist Vote
In the state-wide contest for associate judge of the court of appeals, Townsend Scudder, democrat, carried the city by a plurality of 261,375 over William S. Andrews, republican.

The complete vote was: Scudder, 423,955; Andrews, 365,010, and Ezekiah Wilcox, socialist, 102,351.

There was a heavy slump in the socialist vote. Jacob Panken polled approximately 62,600 less for mayor than the vote cast for Morris Hillquit four years ago. Socialists elected Louis Wills as assemblyman in the fourth Bronx district and August Claessens in the 17th New York district.

Women candidates for municipal and county offices, with the exception of Miss Annie Mathews, successful democratic candidate for registrar of Manhattan county, did not fare well.

The vote in this city on the constitutional amendments, based on very incomplete returns, showed large majorities against the soldier civil service preferment amendment and the amendment providing for increased salaries for legislators, and a substantial majority in favor of the literacy test for voters.

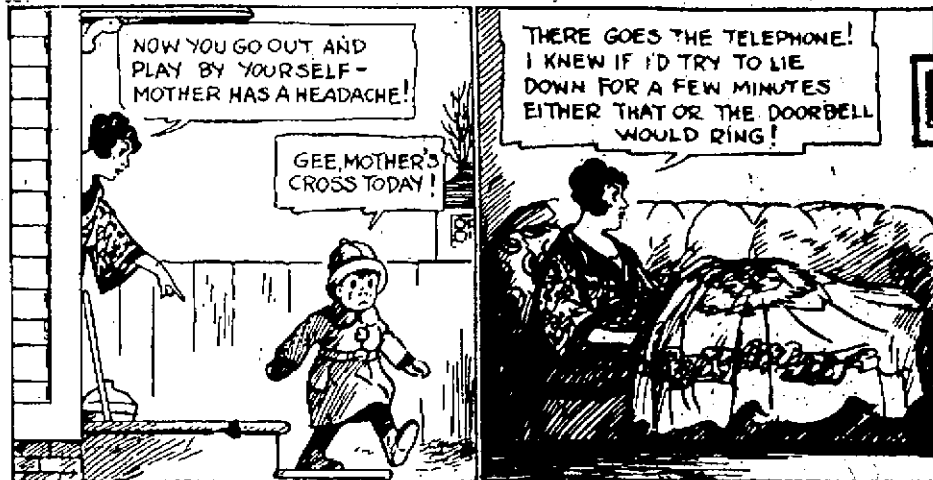

Four Election Officers Arrested
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—On complaint of two socialist watchers, Daniel Platt, chairman of the election board in the second election district of the 17th assembly district, and three of his clerks were arrested today, charged with nullifying ballots in yesterday's election. They were also charged with making fraudulent election returns.

THE QUEEN OF POISONERS

Lucretia Borgia, arch poisoner of the ages, furthered her crimes by the use of putrefied meats. She knew the deadliest of putrefaction in the human system. We moderns of today suffer from similar causes self-inflicted, leading to numerous ills.

The stomach can digest only a certain part of the food we eat. The balance is waste that must be eliminated else it putrefies and forms deadly and poisonous gases. They result in those sharp pains, deadly aches in the head and the back, low spirit, loss of appetite, sour stomach and that heavy, dull, depressed feeling.

So universal is this constipated condition that a body of 25,000 reputable physicians and pharmacists have been combined in producing a sure means of relief—A.D.S. Hepatic Salts. It flushes the kidneys, cleanses the alimentary tract, purges the system of impurities and quickly restores the normal, natural action. Ask for A.D.S. Hepatic Salts. For sale by J. F. MUSTEROLE JOOSENS up stiff joints and drives out pain. A clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard, it usually brings relief as soon as you start to rub it on.

It does all the good work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster, without the blister. Doctors and nurses often recommend its use.

Do This Tonight

Watch the quick effects—see the change in a week

Present this coupon to your dealer. He will give you a delightful ten-day test of a new teeth-cleaning method which millions are employing.

Watch the effects, quick, pleasant and conspicuous. Watch the new luster that comes. In ten days let your mirror tell you the way to pretty teeth.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this method now. You will see and feel the reasons when you make this test.

End the dingy film

The chief purpose is to fight film. This viscous coat, which you can feel, causes dingy teeth and also most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The old ways of brushing did not end it. So film-coats night and day threaten serious damage.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing. Despite the daily brushing with old methods, very few escaped them.

Now you can fight it

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved them effective. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in Pepsodent, the new-day, scientific tooth paste. Millions of people now use it, and the use is fast spreading the world over.

That is the dentifice we urge you to try. Your druggist has a free tube for you. Enjoy its effects for ten days, then judge them for yourself.

Also starch and acids

Modern diet makes other things essential. And those essentials are embodied in this scientific tooth paste.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acids.

Endorsed by authorities, advised by leading dentists everywhere, and supplied by all druggists in the large tubes.

An ideal diet would do these same things, but few people get it. So dental science now needs the tooth paste to bring these desired effects.

Pepsodent will daily bring you five great benefits which the old ways did not bring. Together they mean a new era in teeth cleaning.

Men's tobacco stains

Men who smoke stain these film-coats with tobacco. The use of Pepsodent brings them conspicuous effects.

Food stains with women make these film-coats dingy. The glistening teeth seen everywhere now show how Pepsodent removes them.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Very few escape them. Dentists advise that they use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Watch teeth whiten

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. No user can long doubt them. A book we send explains the reasons for them. A very short test will convince you that this new way is essential.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Watch the other good effects.

Then you will see and feel and know that Pepsodent is necessary. You will realize that old methods were not right. And this discovery may bring life-long benefits both to you and yours. Present this coupon to any dealer named this week. Cut it out now.

Present this coupon, with your name and address filled in, to any store named. It is good for a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent.

VELVET GOWNS IN FASHION'S FAVOR

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Velvet combined with other materials is growing more and more in favor as the season advances.

And when velvet is in brilliant and rich shades the effect is naturally stunning. The gown of red crepe matisse and velvet is like a burst of flame and flame color is one of the most important shades this year. The gown has many novel touches—the soft draped collar; the uniquely crossed sash belt extending low on the skirt and the originally cut sleeves. The bodice alone, which resembles a basque, is of matisse piped in velvet. The skirt is full and extremely girlish appearing. The small hat with its pendant loop is of red silk and velvet.

To Continue Emergency Tariff Act

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The emergency tariff act would be continued until superseded by a permanent measure, under the house bill as amended and passed late yesterday by the senate without a record vote. The senate did not alter the house provisions pertaining to the dye embargo, although these were made the subject of special attack in the argument which preceded the vote.

Landis Wants To Hear From Ruth

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball, intends to dispose of the cases of Babe Ruth and the other two members of the pennant-winning Yankees who violated baseball law by participating in exhibitions, as soon as he hears what the offending players have to say for themselves. Indications today were that the decision may be expected before the end of the week.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Babe Ruth said today that he had mailed his answer to Judge Landis' inquiry regarding his participation in the post-season barnstorming tour. He thought it would reach Chicago by tomorrow. Ruth declined to discuss the nature of his answer, other than to say that he hoped it would be satisfactory. He said he had not yet received his world series money.

CITY SOLICITOR SUBMITS OPINION

Some time ago, the city solicitor received a request from the high school building commission for an opinion relative to the disposal of furnaces removed from a building in the course of reconstruction under contract, to which the said commission is a party, as to whom the proceeds of the sale should be credited, the high school building commission or any other repository, and the solicitor has submitted the following opinion:

Section 2 of chapter 178, Special Acts of 1919, the act creating your commission, says in part: "So far as may be necessary for the purposes of this act, the commission shall have all the powers and duties conferred and imposed by chapter six hundred and forty-five of the acts of 1918, and the acquisition of land therefor, and shall succeed to the rights and liabilities, and perform the duties of the municipal council relating to the construction of said building."

If the agreement entered into between your commission and the contractor for the construction of the high school and repairs to the old had stipulated that the contract price was to be reduced by an agreed sum in consideration of the conveyance of these furnaces, said contractor, or furnaces when removed were to become the property of said contractor, the contractor would have good title to this property and could claim the same, and your commission would be acting under authority of law in permitting him to do so. However, as a matter of fact, there was no agreement made between said contractor and the city regarding said furnaces. Therefore, they are the property of the city of Lowell and should be disposed of by your commission.

Your commission having the jurisdiction vested in it by said chapter 178, and the said right under the provisions of said chapter to sell these furnaces, but as the proceeds of the sale received therefrom should be deposited in the general treasury of the city pursuant to the provisions of section 9, chapter 4 of the acts of 1919, and the proceeds should be appropriated by the municipal council to your appropriation.

I am informed, however, that as a fact there are no proceeds from said sale, the purchaser not having paid for said furnaces, and I assume until they are paid for the question of appropriation to your appropriation is a moot question.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM D. REGAN,
City Solicitor.

DISTRICT COURT HAS SHORT SESSION

The district court, Judge Fisher on the bench, was in session less than ten minutes today. Only three cases came up for disposition. Because of other engagements of counsel the trial of Urban A. Homer, charged with being a fugitive from justice and with non-support, was again continued to November 16. Ball on the first complaint was set at $1000 and on the latter at $300. Homer, who is also wanted by the Providence police for bigamy, has been the centre of considerable activity in the local court. It appears that he married a second time in Providence before a divorce decree from a Lowell girl had become absolute. On a statutory charge last week he was given a suspended sentence to the house of correction.

A larceny case involving an old employee of a local store has been settled out of court. It was stated today, the complaint being filed before trial. The company was the complainant, charging the defendant with stealing a quantity of groceries and other articles from the store. For neglect of wife a Billerica man was placed on probation for six months.

DECLARES WAR ON MAIL BANDITS

Armed Marines to Guard Mails at Postoffices in All Large Cities

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—With a declaration of "open warfare" by the postoffice department on the bandits responsible for the startling series of mail robberies, 1000 United States marines were proceeding to duty today as guards of mail trains and trucks, and at postoffices in 15 large cities, including Boston.

They will be armed with pistols and sawed-off shotguns and are under orders from Major General Lejeune, commander of the Marine Corps, to shoot to kill, if necessary, to prevent looting of the mails. By tonight Gen. Lejeune said, practically all trains in the country carrying valuable mails will be under guard.

President Harding was said to have expressed approval of Postmaster General Hays' plan. The marines later, it was said, are to be replaced by a special force recruited for the postal service.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED AS MATTAPAN NURSE

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The body of the woman found dead, a suicide from gas, in the lodging house at 68 Massachusetts avenue Monday afternoon was identified at the Northern Mortuary last night, as that of Miss Jean McArthur, 33, single, a nurse at the Boston Consumptives' hospital in Mattapan.

The identification was made by Miss L. Corey, a nurse at the hospital. Dr. Hunt of the staff of the hospital, was communicated with by Dr. Leary. Dr. Hunt said that Miss Corey was a proper person to make the identification.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Mayor Thompson of Chicago was taken to task yesterday by Secretary Hoover for refusing to initiate measures adopted by the national conference on unemployment or relieving the unemployment situation.

GERMAN VIEW OF PARLEY

Believe Arms Conference Will Result in Cancellation of War Debts

BERLIN, Nov. 9. (By the Associated Press.)—Beller that the Washington conference will result in cancellation or postponement of payment of the war debts owed the United States by entente nations, is expressed by Dr. Friedrich Rosen, former foreign minister, in an article in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

In this event, he believes, the German reparations terms will be revised. Otherwise, he declares, he feels that the Germans have nothing to hope from the conference, as the manner in which armament limitation has been applied to Germany, instead of being a step toward world peace, has only laid the ground work for future conflict.

BOSTON MAIL TRAIN GUARDED BY MARINES

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Orders to have mail cars on the Southwestern Limited, leaving this city daily at 2 p. m., over the Boston & Albany railroad for Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis, guarded by armed marines were issued today. This will be the first train out of Boston so guarded.

Similar guards would be placed on other mail trains leaving later, in accordance with instructions from Postmaster General Hays. Christopher Reising, superintendent of the Railway Mail Service in New England, said he expected about 100 marines to be assigned from the navy yard here for train duty. They will be placed on all trains carrying registered mail. Details of their assignment were worked out at a conference today with chief clerks of the various New England divisions. J. Thrasher of Portland, Me., D. F. Hunt of White River Junction, Vt., E. J. Castello of New Haven, Conn., and H. F. French of this city, conferred with Superintendent Reising.

The question of placing marines on mail trains in the city was taken under consideration by Postmaster Roland R. Baker. The trucks at present it was pointed out, carry armed guards furnished by the postoffice department.

No definite decision will be taken by the Ulster representatives until they are in possession of the detailed written statement of the negotiations between Mr. Lloyd George and the Sinn Féin delegates which the British premier has promised.

The Ulster cabinet members adjourned until 11 o'clock Thursday morning when Mr. Lloyd George hopes to have the statement ready. One of those present at the session was asked what the position was at present. In reply he pointed to the fog outside. "Like that," he said.

Fourth Anniversary of Soviet Republic

MOSCOW, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Premier Lenine made the fourth anniversary of the soviet republic today the occasion of an article in an anniversary number issued by the Pravda in which he predicts the world chase for gold will result in wars between America and Japan, or America and England by 1925 or 1928. The article, "The value of gold now, and after the victory of Socialism," says the soviet government has merely retreated in the attack on world capitalism and is strengthening its position so it can make renewed assaults.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE HOLDS FIRST MEETING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The advisory committee of 21 appointed by President Harding for the armament conference was assembled here today for its first meeting, which was also to be attended by the four principal American delegates. The committee was to be received during the day by President Harding at the White House.

Its initial meeting at which it was expected policies would be definitely shaped, was scheduled as two more foreign delegations neared Washington—the British headed by A. J. Balfour, and the Italian party which was expected to arrive today in New York, on the steamer Dante.

would include the various departments of the city and Commissioner Salmon said he believed it should include all departments. The vote in favor of suspending all civic operations on Armistice day was unanimous. Commissioner Salmon brought up the matter of installing a new water main across Central bridge. He said such action was being recommended by the city engineer, who thinks the new main should be placed directly in the center of the structure. The commissioner believed the cost of the work should be charged up to the appropriation for the bridge so that no confusion may arise later. The commissioner then introduced a vote that he be instructed to enter into a contract with the Middlesex Machine Co. for the installation of the said main, the emergency clause being attached to the vote. The order was passed unanimously.

CONNECTICUT BARS OVERLOADED TRUCKS

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 9.—Overloading of motor trucks which use the state highways in Connecticut will be subject to rules which have been made by the state highway and Motor Vehicle departments, acting jointly. The chief points in the rules made public yesterday are: The highway department will not authorize the operation on public highways of trucks weighing more than the legal limit of 25,000 pounds. Upon certification of the manufacturer of a truck that it is capable of safely carrying a load in excess of its rated capacity, the motor vehicle department will register it at the increased capacity certified by the manufacturer up to the 25,000 pound maximum fixed by law. The rules will be enforced by the state police and are effective at once.

DIVORCE CASE IN SUPERIOR COURT

The divorce case in which John J. Manning of this city is suing his wife, Etta, on the grounds of desertion and neglect, was concluded yesterday in superior court, with Judge William C. Burns on the bench. The case started yesterday morning and was continued all day, the last witness being heard this morning. Atty. Alford, counsel for the defendant, argued the libellant was guilty of desertion and asked that the petition be not allowed. Attorney Rogers then argued for the libellant and tried to show his client was deserted and that he was willing to live with his wife. Judge Burns declared a 10 minute recess after the arguments were concluded and now has the case under consideration.

WILL OPEN FRIDAY

GRACE CHURCH LECTURE

Charles H. Eglee Talks on

"The New Era of Industrial Management"

Workers of today aspire to something more than just holding down their jobs, Charles H. Eglee of Boston told the members of Grace Church Men's club, last evening. His lecture outlined "The new era of industrial management." Mr. Eglee is industrial manager for the Massachusetts Leather Manufacturers' association. The speaker followed the monthly dinner and business meeting of the club held in the parish house.

President Ora Hardy of the club announced an increase in the membership rolls. Introducing Mr. Eglee, the president said he was well known in Lowell, having spent the past 15 months here inaugurating plans for new activities at the Massachusetts mills for the promotion of a better understanding between employers and employees of that plant.

Mr. Eglee declared it is not money alone that workers wanted nowadays. They wanted to be "in the know," he said. He described in detail the plans for increased welfare work in the mill cities. Man's primal instinct is production—reproduction of the race—and this instinct cannot be done away with. Perverse that instinct and you turn men toward destruction and radicalism, the speaker said.

"All over this land there is now a new era dawning," he continued. "Last spring there were 40 leather manufacturers in the state dreading a strike. Four thousand workers were on strike in Peabody, and settlement seemed far away. But one man came forward and instituted a new deal. 'We will not fight,' he said. After a few weeks the workers accepted a pay cut with no disturbance whatever, as they had been shown in man-to-man fashion the need of the cut. Now that whole town has changed for the better. When the labor union which a man belongs to says one thing and the employer for whom he works says another, he is between the devil and the deep sea."

"The experiment in the Massachusetts mills here in Lowell is only a start, but already the whole temper of the whole morale of that mill is entirely changed. Now the workers and their employers are ready to get together and do things. This change is taking place in establishments the country over, and it marks the ushering in of a new era in industrial management."

Mr. Eglee was given a rising vote of thanks for his talk. He answered many questions concerning the new plan of industrial management.

HE DIDN'T GET AWAY WITH IT

The daring resistance put up by a woman and her husband for help routed a snatch thief who attempted to grab her pocketbook from her hand at the corner of Market and Dummer streets late last night. The woman was returning home when suddenly the man, appearing at a dark spot, tried to snatch the bag. He was unsuccessful, however, the woman having a firm hold on the bag and when he repeated the attempt she fought back and screamed, frightening off the assailant. A vague description of the man was given to the police.

THE EFFICIENT WOMAN

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of 30 years ago, who ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force and energy, in the sense that it is used today? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition.

CHIMNEY FIRE
A chimney fire at 28 West Fifth st. was quickly extinguished this morning by a chemical from the central station.

The building escaped with difficulty, several being obliged to slide down ropes and for a time it was believed two had lost their lives. The missing men were accounted for later, however.

Find 16 Dangling from Ropes
The fire was discovered by men on the fourth floor. Finding their escape by the stairways cut off they opened a window and attracted the attention of a passer-by, who sounded the alarm. When the firemen arrived they found 16 men dangling from fire ropes thrown out from windows of the building. Ladders were raised to rescue them and others were taken out of upper story windows. One fireman was slightly injured when he fell through a floor.
The Somerville board of trade had quarters on the first floor of the building together with the offices of the Y.M.C.A. The remainder of the building was used for assembly halls and sleeping quarters. Only the walls were standing after the fire was controlled. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

MAYOR QUINN WINS

Polled Largest Vote Ever Given a Candidate for
Mayor in Cambridge

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Edward W. Quinn yesterday was re-elected mayor of Cambridge in a landslide. Mayor Quinn had a plurality of more than 3800 over his nearest competitor, Representative Julius Meyers, who polled 5193 votes. John P. Good had 1290 votes, ex-City Solicitor James F. Alward 441 and John A. Kelleher 106 votes.

Mayor Quinn has the distinction of polling the largest vote ever given a candidate for mayor in Cambridge. About 21,000 votes, or more than two-thirds of the total registered vote of 31,000 was cast, making the vote polled a heavy one. There was a heavy woman vote.

In the contest for school committees the Cambridge Public School association re-elected two of its four candidates, James S. Cassidy and Charles P. McCus, although Miss Cole, another member, was re-elected at the head of the ticket. The fourth place was won by Francis J. Roche.
Hugh G. Anderson was re-elected councilor-at-large, out of a field of 16 who contested for four places. Councilors James T. Barrett and John McCarthy were also re-elected, and Merrill Griswold got fourth place.
The city voted "Yes" on the license question, as it has done yearly since prohibition became a law.

FIREMEN TURN
HOSE ON "KIDDERS"

WILLIAMSTOWN, Nov. 9.—After being subjected to considerable "kidding" by Williams College students while fighting a blaze at the home of Charles F. Bates, the fire department members of the Gale Hose company turned the hose on their annoyers. Twenty-five or 30 of the students were drenched.
While some of the students were making sarcastic remarks, members of the college fire brigade turned out to assist the regular fire department in extinguishing the flames. The fire in the Bates house was confined to the kitchen, the damage being estimated at $1000.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY
The Holy Name society of St. Michael's parish, will receive holy communion next Sunday morning at the 8 o'clock mass. In the evening at 6.30 o'clock the regular meeting will be held. There is business of importance to be considered at the meeting and it is hoped all members will attend. The membership committee is busy for the coming initiation of new members in preparation for the union Holy Name meeting in January, and there is much enthusiasm among the members as the result of the activity of the membership committee. Both Fr. Shaw, pastor of the parish, and Fr. Mullin, spiritual director of the Holy Name society are actively interested in the work of the membership committee and will do all they can to assist in making the drive for new members a grand success.

COTTON REPORT

GAELIC LANGUAGE STUDY
An opportunity to study the Gaelic language may be afforded Lowell residents during the coming winter, if the Lowell Gaelic Athletic association's present plans meet with success. The association held a special meeting last night to discuss the matter and after favorable consideration by all present the secretary was instructed to get in touch with the Boston Gaelic club. It is understood that this school is willing to furnish instructors one or two nights a week in the event that classes are instituted in this city. If the matter can be satisfactorily handled classes will be opened for members of the club and other citizens who are interested.

Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a flat, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c. —Adv.

YOUR WINTER
COAL

ANTHRACITE costs consumers almost twice as much as it costs before the war.

Metals, textiles, building materials, leather, etc., cost more than twice as much as they did formerly.

Nevertheless it is perfectly natural that you do not like to pay present coal prices.

Neither do we. But—

With wages at the mine fixed until next year at 138 cent. above pre-war levels,

And freight rates 100 per cent. higher;

With our profits per ton so small that if we took it all off it would not make any material differences to the individual consumer—

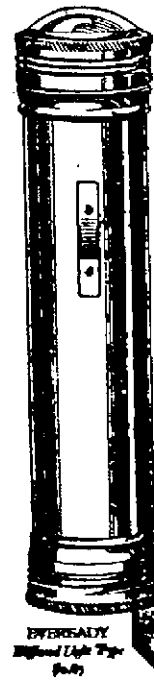

We do not see how prices can be reduced.

Get Back Your Grip on Health

Every man and woman is born with just so much nerve force or nerve capital—some with more than others. Thousands inherit weak nerves because their nerve force has been squandered by their ancestors. Your system can only make or create about so much nerve force every twenty-four hours, and if from any cause you use it up faster than it is made, you are bound in time to become a nervous wreck with all its terrible tortures and alarming symptoms. In such cases, it is often wiser than foolish to take invigorating medicines or narcotics.

What you need is to take something to put more nerve force into your nerves and more iron into your blood. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not blacken or injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed as both a blood and a nerve food as it feeds strengthening iron to your blood and the principal chemical ingredient of active living nerve force to your brain and nerve cells. At all druggists.

HURLBURT ASSAILS JUDGE SANDERSON

BOSTON, March 9.—Henry F. Hurlburt, president of the Boston Bar association and a special assistant attorney general, who prosecuted Dist. Atty. Tufts with Atty. Gen. Allen, assailed Judge Sanderson of the superior court for his conduct in the trial of the celebrated Fish Trust cases in his argument in a brief submitted to the full bench of the supreme court yesterday.

"These are strong charges," said Mr. Hurlburt, "and counsel, as officers of the court, are reluctant to make them, but they are amply warranted by the record."

Mr. Hurlburt is counsel for the defendants in the fish case which came before the supreme court yesterday for argument on the exceptions taken at the trial of the cases in 1919. He argued that "the conduct of the judge, where the rights and liberties of presumably innocent men are concerned, is indefensible and is a blot upon the administration of justice."

He charged the judge with having abdicated his functions, and declared that his conduct in the trial was "outrageously injurious to the defendants."

The attack by Mr. Hurlburt caused a stir at the courthouse. After a trial lasting eight weeks, a jury returned a verdict against all the defendants represented by Mr. Hurlburt, and acquitted three defendants, two represented by Daniel V. McKeon and the other by John G. Wright.

F. Munroe Dyer, president of the Bay State Fishing company of Massachusetts, Joshua F. Joseph, A. Rich, Ernest A. James and John Burns, Jr., other officers of the company, were sentenced to the house of correction for a year each and were severally fined $1000. Alvin G. Baker, Ephraim N. Cook, Willard R. Cox, Louis B. Goodspeed, Winfield S. Kendrick, William F. McKeon, Frederick C. Phillips, Albert E. Watts, Herbert A. Rich and Simon Atwood were each given six months and fined $500.

The sentences were imposed in July, 1919, but the execution was stayed pending the determination of the defendant's exceptions by the supreme court. The cases finally reached the court for argument yesterday afternoon. Damon E. Hall, partner of Mr. Hurlburt, began the oral argument.

The arguments will be resumed today. Mr. Hurlburt is expected to make a closing oral argument, supplementing his argument contained in the brief that he submitted to the court. Ex-Atty. Gen. Atwill and ex-Dist. Atty. Webber, who prosecuted the cases, appear for the commonwealth.

The defendants were charged with conspiracy to create a monopoly to enhance the price of fish, to cheat and defraud the public; and also with violation of the statute relating to combinations. The jury returned its verdicts, April 17, 1919.

HOLIDAY SCHEDULES ON RAILROADS FRIDAY

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Plans for the observance of Armistice day are well matured.

The governing council of the Retail Trade board of the chamber of commerce has voted to recommend that all stores that are members of the board close all day as a token of respect to the unknown soldier to be buried on that day.

The Boston & Maine, the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Albany railroads announce that they will operate only on a holiday schedule. This action is due to the closing of so many factories and places of business. The New Haven announced as well that its trains will operate on the schedule that is noted in the folders for Thanksgiving day.

Boston policemen on duty will observe the two minutes of silence requested by the president unless duty demands their attention. According to Supt. Crowley they will stand at attention as a mark of respect to the soldier dead.

Acting on a Washington order the Boston postoffice and branches will be closed all day and only special delivery letters will be delivered by carriers, and only the usual holiday collection of mail will be made from the boxes.

The Loyal Coalition announces that it will display at headquarters, 24 Mt. Vernon street, the flags of the 23 allies during the war and the flags of the six nations who broke off diplomatic relations with the central powers. These flags are the property of Telfair Minton, secretary of the Coalition, and are said to be one of the very few complete collections of the flags of the allies. During the arms conference flags of the nations attending will be shown in accordance with a schedule that has been worked out.

The American Legion will hold exercises at the Parkman bandstand, according to State Commander Duane. All posts are invited to attend and men are to be in uniform. There will be no speeches. The program is as follows: Assembly, 11:30 a. m.; music, 11:45; parade rest, 12:00; to 12:02; salute, 12:03; taps, 12:08. Music will be furnished by a band of 135 pieces. Detachments from the army, navy and marines will be present. Seats will be reserved for gold-star mothers and fathers.

THEIR CHINA WEDDING
Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sullivan, of 1365 Gorham street celebrated the 20th anniversary of their marriage on Sunday evening at their home when 100 of their friends called and surprised them with many costly gifts. A musical program was carried out and refreshments were served. The party broke up at a reasonable hour, all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan many years of happiness.

LOWELL BOY HOLY CROSS DEBATER

The debaters chosen to represent Holy Cross college in an intercollegiate debate with Fordham university in New York city early in December are Francis A. Drumm, '22, East Perpetual, captain; John E. Carroll, '22, Providence, R. I.; George F. Shea, '22, Simsbury, Conn.; Edward A. Conway, '24, Milwaukee, Wis., first alternate; Albert L. Bourgeois, '22, Lowell, second alternate.

These speakers represent the final selection of a board of five faculty

Judges after two preliminary contests in which a large number of the members of the two debating societies, the B. J. F. and the Philomathean, took part. In addition to the debate with Fordham university, Holy Cross will also debate Providence college, and arrangements are now being made to debate Syracuse university, Boston university, Canisius college, Buffalo, N. Y., and Boston college. These contests, it is hoped, will afford ample opportunity for the development of the wealth of debating material at Holy Cross to sustain the high reputation in debate for which the Jesuit institution is justly famous.

AMUSEMENT NOTES
By Theatres Own Press Agents
OPERA HOUSE
"The Love Hand," which is being presented this week by the Lowell

Players at the Opera House, is meeting with unquestioned favor on the part of the many patrons. Miss Shirley Magrath and Kalman Maus, who are appearing in the principal roles, are scoring heavily, while John Strong, the new member of the company, and the others of the cast were never seen to better advantage. The story is a pleasant mixture of good dramatic possibilities and excellent comedy. The stage settings are most commendable. There will be a special matinee performance on Friday afternoon. Next week "Over the Hills to the Poor House" will be the production.

THE STRAND
Today offers the last chance of seeing Viola Dana and Frank Mayo in their newest and cleverest photoplays. Miss Dana is as fascinating as ever in "Life's Darn Funny," and Mayo in "The Sharkmaster."

Beginning tomorrow and continuing through the remainder of the week, Tom Mix and Edith Roberts will be shown in their newest film creation.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Final performances of "Ladies Must Live," the noted George Leane Tucker production, featuring Betty Compton, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow afternoon there will be an entire change of program.

The features for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be Florence Reed in "The Black Panther's Cub," a stirring outdoors dramatic production and "Made in Heaven," a Tom Moore production. Both these features are of the highest type and especial interest is attached to the Moore picture in that it was while making that photoplay that Mr. Moore met his wife. A comedy, "The Seaside Siren," and the International News are other film features of the bill.

RIALTO THEATRE
At the Rialto theatre beginning tomorrow afternoon will be seen the splendid James Oliver Curwood production, "The Golden Snare." This screen production ranks with "Back to God's Country" and "The River's End," that have already been seen at the Rialto. In addition to the features there will be seen Bessie Love in "Penalty of Top Hill Trail," a comedy and the Khograms. Don't miss it.

Pimples and boils are signs of lowered vitality

A familiar food now used to correct them

PIMPLES and blackheads (acne) and boils are often the signals of a falling off in health. "A bad acne may indicate profound debility," writes a physician connected with a number of leading New York hospitals, and "the repeated occurrence of boils should always be looked upon as an indication of lowered vitality."

It has been found from actual clinical tests that remarkable results are obtained in treating these complaints with Fleischmann's Yeast.

Today Fleischmann's Yeast is everywhere recognized as a valuable "conditioner." It is a fresh food which supplies in rich quantities the newly discovered vitamins known to be lacking from many of our foods. It thus corrects lowered vitality which is so often the underlying cause of these minor ailments.

To protect themselves against these complaints many are making Fleischmann's Yeast a part of their regular diet. It is a highly digestible food assimilated like any other fresh food. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor and the clean, wholesome taste it leaves in your mouth.

Eat Fleischmann's Yeast before or between meals—from two to three cakes a day. Only one precaution: if troubled with gas dissolve yeast first in very hot water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. You will like Fleischmann's Yeast spread on toast or crackers, dissolved in milk or fruit-juices, or just plain. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it fresh daily.

Send 4 cents in stamps for the interesting booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet." So many inquiries are coming in daily for this booklet that it is necessary to make this nominal charge to cover cost of handling and mailing. Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington Street, New York, N. Y.

The need for scientifically tested yeast

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamins preparations that contain drugs or other mixtures. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamins, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for Health is sold.

Lou Bogash and Jack Malone, two prominent middleweights, will meet in a bout with a championship at stake. The title is the featherweight crown of Lawrence, and Mike Castle and Barney Burke, two noted mitt artists, are to compete for the honor. The bout will be staged as one of the ten round numbers of the Mopidy club card.

The other ten-round event will bring together Mickey Travers of Boston and Young Jack Sharkey of New Bedford. "Here is a bout," says Promoter Dodge, "that looks like one of the best ever hooked up for this town. I feel that they will stand in there and fight all the way, and will be greatly disappointed if they fail to have the battle for the last many times during their number," concluded the local matchmaker.

A move has been inaugurated by Mr. Dodge to eliminate the managers handling local boxers, particularly preliminary boys. He plans to do business direct with the boys, feeling that managers are a liability rather than an asset. The manager, says Dodge, takes on a considerable sum for his services, and this makes the boys themselves, declares the promoter, deserve what they can get, and he stands

WHIPPET RACING
REHABILITATED
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Whippet racing, a sport centuries old, was rehabilitated in the United States yesterday on the broad race track of the famous Meadowbrook Country club house. A generation ago whippet racing was a popular sport in parts of America, but with a fading air of good stock interest waned.

A new American record for 200 yards was established in yesterday's race, held under auspices of the "Whippet" association of Long Island. Barbary Hill Dawn, a 11-pounder, negotiated the final heat of one of the two stake events in 12 seconds. James Culligan's white-striped Tommy won the other event, covering the 200 yards of the final heat in 12-3/4 seconds.

CLAREMONT, Cal., Nov. 8.—"Sign: veni, vidi, vici."
Quarterback Ray Wilson of the Pomona college football team barked the above signal in a Southern California conference game recently with the result that the opposing eleven was so startled that Captain Voorhes, halfback, came through the line, saw the enemy goal posts not far away, and quickly galloped the way of a conquering hero for a touchdown and ultimate victory.
It is not often that football and the Latin language are associated with each other aside perhaps from the necessity of gridiron stars making passing grades in the study in order to remain on their eleven.
With a student body of only 750 men and women, this little college stands among the first eight institutions of the country in scholarship rank. And it is here that football and Latin are very closely linked together for Eugene White Nixon, head coach of the Sugehen team, is also professor of Latin.
During the past four years Nixon's eleven have not lost a single game in the Southern California conference. In these four years his eleven have been defeated only twice, both times by the University of Southern California. The scores were 6 to 0 and 7 to 0. With less than 300 male students in the college, over 100 report each afternoon for football.
Coach Nixon uses practically the same system in teaching Latin as he does in instructing his gridiron warriors. He does not attempt to develop in either subject. The student in both cases, is drilled each day in the basic fundamentals of the study. "And the man who learns the principles quickly in the classroom, learns quicker on the gridiron," says Coach Nixon.

Bill Brennan, according to rumor, is to meet Joe Beckett. In order to save time and money we would suggest that Brennan simply cable the knockout. It would probably suit Beckett just as well, and certainly would be less painful.

Price Paid for This Jersey Cow Would Buy Good Farm

Another Hood, farm Jersey has recently been sold for a record price, again bringing to the public mind the famous sales of past years at which these famous cows brought unheard of prices.
The latest sale is that of Sophie Tormentor's Elinda for $5000. In 1913 club's medal of merit.

As a three year old she gave 14,033 pounds of milk, 808 pounds of fat and 1010 pounds of butter, winning the American Jersey Cattle club gold medal for the championship of her class. Following year she gave 15,551 pounds of milk, 891 of fat and 1114 of butter winning the American Jersey Cattle club's medal of merit.

Tom Braden Buys Mary Q— Reception to "Brother"

H. L. Sheldon
Thomas Braden's brand new speed horse, Mary Q, 2.13 q, all the way from the Pine Tree state, at his first breakfast in the Braden stables this morning and appeared to like the city.

The new one arrived in tip-top shape, the car being of the near-Pullman variety and nicely heated all the way.

The Braden entry is considered one of the best purchases made this year in Lowell and vicinity. She is sired by Dan Q, a splendid animal with a string of clever trackers. The purchase was not clinched when the sale first came up, there being one or two other bidders. Mr. Braden wanted to be sure of before he paid over the money.

While the price isn't going to be published, The Sun is informed that too good a good-sizer roll of greenbacks to bring Mary Q to Lowell, and Mr. Braden has been informed by horsemen who know that he made no mistake when he captured Mary Q.

Lowell horsemen are planning to give brother H. L. Sheldon from northern New England a hearty reception when he enters the "track meet" Thursday afternoon promptly at 2 p. m. at O. P. Davis' stables, 513 Dutton street. They have learned that he is preparing to spring two or three surprises and "has something good" in the speed line. Mr. Sheldon is not putting out any circus posters, but admits promptly when questioned that he is a good-sizer and is called a "jack" here and nearby precincts.

Sheldon's best bet is one nine-year-old mare from Clinton, Me. This piece of advertising agent is called a real four-legged, and is out of a half-sister of Mary McCue. Vassar is a black mare. And neither did the shouting ring! Hugh Green is offering a bright bay

THE UNKNOWN HERO

This afternoon the body of the "unknown" soldier selected from the long line of those who fell in battle and who from the stress of circumstances were buried as "unknown," reached Washington, to be honored as typical of the heroic soldier, whether officer or private, who made the supreme sacrifice for his country and then, as it were, sank into oblivion to be forgotten? Oh! no, not forgotten, for on Friday a grateful nation will bow its head in solemn prayer and homage to this dead soldier, representing the son of every golden star mother in this republic whose boy gave his life for the flag in such a way that the identification of his remains became impossible.

November 11 has been proclaimed a holiday in honor of the unknown dead. With all due solemnity let it be observed and while we thus pay fitting homage to the unknown dead, let us also pay due tribute to the known martyrs to the cause of world freedom and democracy; and not only to these, but also to the survivors of the conflict who had the happiness to return home after passing through the carnage and the holocausts of war.

To the memory of the heroic dead let us pay due honor; and while so doing let us not forget that the real proof of our sincerity and our gratitude will be shown, not so much by what we do for the dead who ask but our fond remembrance, as by what we do in a substantial way for their brothers who survive, those who happened to escape the bursting shells, the machine gun bullets and the treacherous torpedoes while following equally the command of their superior officers in casting themselves upon the foe.

Yes, the "unknown dead" brings up a long train of ideas in which a voice seems to come from the honored tomb of the unknown to say, "True, I died for my country, but the men who fought by my side rendered fully as valiant service as did I. The only difference is, that I happened to get hit while they, assuming the same risks, escaped with their lives. But their lives were offered as truly as was mine; and now that they live, that they are back in civilian life, we dead expect that the government will show due appreciation of their services, as any neglect or indifference to their needs will be a slight on our sacrifices as well as on theirs. The army that left this country for France is now divided into two parts, the known and unknown dead; and the living who survived the struggle. The gratitude of the nation to the heroic dead is best proved by its generous treatment of those who, though fighting by our side, survived the conflict and by devotion to the high principles of freedom for which we made the supreme sacrifice."

THE WORLD CONFERENCE

On Friday the conference called by President Harding for the purpose of adopting some plan to restrict the armaments of great military powers will be formally opened.

This conference being of international character has attracted world-wide attention. It is regarded as the first step towards the prevention of war. For many years, we might say, many centuries past, the great powers have gone on increasing their military and naval armaments with the result that international jealousies led to combinations which finally resulted in the world war. There was then the triple alliance, which brought into being the triple entente; and unless some steps be taken to prevent a continuance of this competitive armament, the vast expenditures will go on and other wars will inevitably result.

It is to prevent competitive armaments and to restrict military operations to what is actually needed for national defense, that President Harding has called this world conference.

It is true, however, that before any decisions can be reached, a vast number of national jealousies, misunderstandings and rival international interests must be discussed and cleared up so that the leading powers may then proceed to adopt the policy of disarmament or limitation of armaments, that will be acceptable to all and at the same time eliminate a very great part of the vast expenditure now incurred for maintaining armies and navies on a war basis.

The ambitions of Japan, supposed to be bent on foreign conquests and national expansion, will come under discussion as will also the present national debts of the various countries and how Europe may be restored to normal conditions.

The European powers are very anxious to secure two concessions from the United States. One is that we shall cancel all war loans to the allied powers and the other, that we shall form some sort of an alliance with England and France that will prevent Germany from attacking either of these powers and give them greater national security with a minimum expense for defense.

These are two very important questions that do not seem germane to the purposes of the conference; but yet so far as can be judged, they are certain to be brought up for discussion and settlement if that be practical. We do not believe, however, that the American delegation to that conference will have any authority to deal with either of these questions in a manner that would exceed a recommendation to congress.

SOME BIG PROBLEMS

The approach of the arms conference brings up many speculations as to the various international questions that may come up for consideration. One of the most delicate of these will be the relations between China and

Japan and particularly the Shantung matter.

China does not want to remain any longer the "sick man of Asia," but is determined to carry out a plan of general development under the "open door" policy. Since the days of Secretary John Hay, the American policy toward China has been friendly and constructive. Japan has already declared that she has no designs upon China and that she fully approves the policy of the open door, which would maintain the territorial integrity of China in much the same way as the Monroe Doctrine protects the United States, and indeed the entire western hemisphere, against foreign aggression.

The primary object of the coming conference is to put a stop to military aggression everywhere and to give the nations some security against war. President Harding thinks this can be done through his plan of reduction or limitation of armaments; but others believe that it can never be done except through some international organization such as the League of Nations.

Even at the present time, France believes that eventually this country will "see the necessity" of entering the League of Nations and joining the other powers in a movement for universal peace; but so far as the League of Nations has functioned, it has had little, if any, effect in promoting world peace. This country, by an overwhelming vote of the people, has decided against entering it under present conditions and it is not likely to reverse its attitude in the immediate future.

MORE PARKS NEEDED

In reference to the recommendation of the park department that Washington park be purchased by the city, there can be no question as to the wisdom and foresight of that advice. That park is needed and another and a bigger park is much needed in the outer Highlands. In twenty-five years hence, we are likely to have to purchase areas covered by buildings and convert them into public breathing places. It is cheaper to buy the land now. With the natural growth of the city, we need more parks and each district such as the Highlands, Centralville, Belvidere, Pawtucketville, and the South End should all be provided with parks in their respective localities. It is good policy to look ahead on these matters and provide at least for immediate necessities.

SENATOR WATSON

Senator Watson of Georgia should be called upon to prove his charges that twenty-one soldiers were executed without trial on the battlefield of France, under authority of their military commanders. When asked for his proofs in support of the charge, he challenged the war department to prove that the charge was untrue. We have no doubt that this can be done but it should not be necessary in view of the reputation that this man has already acquired for drawing upon his imagination in making charges of this kind. He has proved himself to be one of the narrowest and most intolerant members of either branch of congress and he is fast developing into what might be termed a common scold and a veritable fire eater.

JAPAN

Japan is spending the equivalent of $245,619,224 on her navy in the present fiscal year. Uncle Sam is spending $126,848,073, leading even Great Britain.

On the surface, we seem to be much more in need of disarmament than Japan. But the programs are not far apart, for it builds a lot more in Japan than in America.

From the arms-limitation conference will come many such figures. Before taking them at face value, make allowance for varying purchasing power in different countries. English often boast they can build two fighting ships for the price of our one. Probably correct, due to lower standards of living and wages.

HOME BREW DANGERS

A proud home brewer took a sample of his beer to Dr. J. M. Doran, chief prohibition chemist in Washington, D. C. "It must be at least 10 percent," said he, "because it leaves you with an awful head in the morning."

Dr. Doran took the home brew into his laboratory, tested it and found that it was not properly made and contained no alcohol at all. But it was full of poisons and continued use of it would probably result in a condition that would prove fatal. It is not true that home brew is dangerous.

"Children's Week" at the public library next week, and a program of unusual entertainment in the book line is to be offered by the librarians and their special workers engaged for the event.

And of course one Washington correspondent had to make that city a "Mecca." A good old word for all pathologies, even if continually overworked.

SEEN AND HEARD

Slave Merchant Ledoux complains that the public is losing interest in his work. New fads always fade.

Oliver Optic would enjoy writing a story about mother's gentle little boy in the year of 1921.

And some families quarrel over the question of whether it shall be a play-er piano or a bin full of coal.

The first snow of the season fell in Willton, Me., Friday morning. During the "storm," which lasted about 15 minutes, a well known Willton man was seen mowing his lawn.

A curious thing about wireless telegraphy is the way it is affected by sunrise and sunset. Trans-Atlantic signals during the day are invariably clear, but those received at sunrise and sunset are said to be barely distinguishable.

Remember the good old Sunday-go-to-ride-in-a-buggy days when the girls admired the ribbon on your white "storm," which lasted about 15 minutes, a well known Willton man was seen mowing his lawn.

The New Housemaid Mrs. Smith engaged a new housemaid and was annoyed to find that the girl persisted in addressing her as "Mrs. Smith." She remonstrated and suggested that she should address her in the same way as the other maids did. "Well," said the girl, thoughtfully, "I can't call you ma'am or mum; I always call mother that. But I don't mind calling you auntie, if you like."

A Buttered Purpose "Ma wants two pounds of butter exactly like what you sent us last week. If it ain't exactly like that she won't take it." The grocer turned to his customer and remarked blandly: "Some people don't like particular customers, but I do. It's my delight to get them just what they want. I will take it to you in a moment, my boy."

Courting an Idiot Little Eleanor gazed long and thoughtfully at the young man who was calling on her grown-up sister Kate. "May I climb up on your knee, Mr. Brown?" "Yes, of course, dear," smiled the young man, who wanted to make a hit with the family. "All right," said the boy, "but I want to see if I can find that word." "Word? What word?" asked the puzzled visitor. "I heard our Kate say this morning that if ever a man had the word 'idiot' written all over his face it was you."

Blasphemy for Him An absent-minded professor invited a number of learned Scotsmen to visit some interesting ruins in his neighborhood, and to do honor to his guest he donned Highland dress for the occasion. There was to be a luncheon in a large marquee on the lawn, and when the master of the house appeared in all the glory of the kilt, the astonishment of Jane, the housemaid, was great. Thinking her master was in one of his vacant moods, she rushed upstairs, and in a few minutes reappeared on the lawn with a pair of the professor's best trousers. She blushed as she said, pointing to the bare knees of the astonished Scots: "Please, sir, you've forgotten these."

STREET HEARINGS

AT CITY HALL

At a meeting held in city hall last night several petitions relative to the widening of streets, acceptance of streets, remaining of streets, extension and repair of sewers, laying of sidewalks and the construction of sidewalks were acted upon. James C. Reilly, Esq., presented a petition sponsored by John J. Reilly and others, proposing that Porter terrace be widened to 20 feet, the necessary easement to be taken from the east side and given to the city without cost. Petitions relative to the acceptance of streets were presented as follows: Dalton street, 100 ft. up from Farmland road, by Louis G. Polissant; Mt. Hope street, from Fifth to Sixth avenue, James Ellis; Quebec street from London to Main, Edward J. O'Hara; Main street, from Main to East, and Fulton street, by Edwin S. Eastman, the last named acceptance being opposed by Dames & Moore. A proposal that East Merrimack street, from Andover to Riverhill road, be changed to Riverhill street, was made by J. Gilbert Hill and others.

A petition to extend the sewer in Preston street a distance of 100 feet was submitted by Patrick Farrell. The repair of an overflowing sewer in Moody street was requested by Clarence L. Kimball, and the laying of a sewer in Pine street was petitioned by Frank Groves.

John Gullis asked for the laying of sidewalks on Third street from Beacon to Liverhill, on both sides. Edmond Demeré asked that a concrete sidewalk be laid in front of the house at 755 Lakewood ave. A sidewalk of edgestones and chinders on St. James street from 40 to Meadowcroft street was petitioned by Rev. John P. Flynn. O.M.E. A sidewalk and edgestones in front of the premises at 131-25 White street was asked for by Mary Leouneau. Edward J. McCarthy petitioned for a sidewalk and edgestones in front of 105 Mt. Hope street and 50 feet on White street. A sidewalk of concrete and edgestones on the westerly side of Jewett street from Coburn to L was asked for by M. Rindler.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I read with horror of the mad dog scare which caused the death of two little children in Lawrence and which has caused consternation among a number of other people who were bitten by the same animal. It is now reported the Lawrence city council will act to kill all unowned dogs and force others to be muzzled. Right here in Lowell I notice many unlicensed dogs on the streets. Why wouldn't it be a good idea to start the crusade against the wandering dog in this city before such an event such as happened in our neighboring city comes to pass here. Let's lock the stable before the horse is stolen—not after.

In Court Officer G. F. Stiles the superior court surely has an attaché of pleasing personality and one ready to lend a helping hand to those unfamiliar with the proceedings at the court. To the stranger and casual visitor the smiling visage of Mr. Stiles is a relief to the more stern surroundings. And then there are Roger Hurd, Fred Roache and Clerk Putnam, all over-anxious to make the visits of strangers pleasant while in the building. It's like being at home and among friends when any of these men are around.

I chanced to drop in to superior court Monday and during that time watched a visit in the jury waived session. To see the rapidity with which the legal machinery ground out divorce decrees was amazing. It took but a few minutes to untie the knot which took months, and often years, to tie. Divorcement and cruel and abusive treatment were the grounds most commonly named for the decrees. Conditions are surely changing from the good old days when marriage was regarded as an indissoluble contract, and not one which was to be set aside in a cold-blooded manner.

Lawrence seems to have been the fertile field from which some of the prominent educators of the country have emerged. The late Supt. Thompson of the Boston schools was in Lawrence for a time, and his successor, Jeremiah E. Burke, was superintendent there when promoted to the board of Boston superintendents. John J. Mahoney, principal of the State Normal school, now supervisor of Americanization, is a Lawrence boy, born, raised and bred, while John I. Donovan, master of the A. B. Bruce school down the river, is principal of the K. of C. evening school here. Messrs. Mahoney and Donovan are comparatively young in the educational field but Lowell people believe that some day they will go along the ladder like Messrs. Thompson and Burke, for ability must be recognized.

I am told that to signalize the holiday, the Knights of Columbus will hold an Armistice night celebration and get-together on Thursday evening, which promises to be a happy affair. Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, a prime favorite with the Knights, will deliver an address on the significance of the day. Grand Knight Hart says a fine entertainment will also be provided and a collation served. It is expected that the capacity of the quarters will be taxed.

With Peter W. Collins, the noted lecturer, here tonight in association with the Knights of Columbus fall and winter program seems to be on in full swing. Mr. Collins is an able exponent of many fine ideals as against the pernicious doctrines of socialism and radicalism and his talk tonight, which is free to the public, ought to be illuminating indeed.

Jeremiah E. Burke, the new head of the Boston schools, is not only an educator and a scholar of profound education but a lecturer and speaker of note, whose addresses heard locally were masterly efforts, reflecting the deep student that he is. It is not a far cry back to the days when he was superintendent of schools in Lawrence and a frequent visitor to Lowell. Later his work in Boston has kept him from this city, the last public appearance being before Bishop Delany assembly, Fourth Degree, K. of C.

One of the oldest so-called "medical men" who used to travel about the country selling cure-alls under kerosene flare lamps, is gone to his reward. Remember the nights years ago when Grandpa Stetson came around? He was a familiar figure in New England towns in the '70s.

The members of the Legion are highly appreciative of the excellent work performed during the past year by Adjutant Robert J. Rutledge. When the latter was renominated at the meeting Monday night the assembly accorded him a generous honor and nobody desired to oppose the popular secretary for the office. Hence nominations were closed and the field was left clear for the present incumbent.

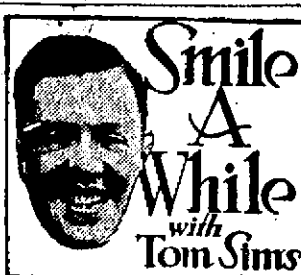

The sessions at the local district court have been unusually brief this week, I notice. This is due, I am told, to the absence of Judge Thomas J. Knight, who is enjoying a week's vacation. Judge Fisher is on the bench at present and in order to have the regular justice dispose of cases continued by Judge Knight, no postponed cases are being tried this week.

I notice that there is an interesting contest in Legion circles for the command of the Lowell post. Senator Vice-Commander Stephen Curtis Garrity and James H. Hogan are the two candidates for that high office, are well known among ex-service men in this city and each has a large following. Their nominations were well received at the meeting Monday night. The election is to take place on the first Monday of December.

Met Abraham Ransen today. Mr. Ransen, who is a Salem attorney, is connected with the veteran's bureau at Boston and is in charge of the clean-up squad that is working here this week. The squad is at the service of local disabled veterans who have claims against the government. They are quartered in the rooms of the Red Cross on Merrimack street. Mr. Ransen is highly impressed with the reception and treatment he is receiving in this city and tells me it is a great relief coming to a hospitable city like Lowell after being quarantined for months in small towns where hotel accommodations are not of the best and means of entertainment are very limited.

EXCESS TEMPERATURE PHILADELPHIA, November 9.—The largest accumulation of excess temperature in the history of the local forecast bureau, has been recorded this year, according to the official forecast. The excess at present amounts to 121 degrees, surpassing by more than 200 degrees the previous high mark for the same period. March, with an excess of 386 degrees, leads the months.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem Relatively Speaking

If you're sure you'll continue to love her
When, after the honeymoon's through,
You find—as most husbands discover—
Her ways were too good to be true;
If you won't mind her wearing a wrapper
Or putting cold cream on her brow;
If you're sure you won't jump up and slap her
For some slight domestic row;

If you think you'll continue to love him
When, after the honeymoon's end,
The idiosyncrasies of him
Prove quite an astonishing blend;
If you think you can stand him unshaven
And smoking a reeking duccin;
If you won't mind the way he'll behave in
The days you are "getting things clean;"

If you won't mind his being quite human
And sometimes a little bit less;
If you won't mind her being a woman
Instead of an angel, I guess,
In spite of some intervals scrappy,
Some boredom and friction and jar,
You'll find yourselves fully as happy
As average married folks are!

This paint washes like tile

All dirt quickly removed from walls and woodwork painted with Barreled Sunlight

NO matter how hard you scrub the dust and dirt from ordinary paint some trace or smudge will remain. Washing seems to make much of it "sink in" still further.

The reason is that the surface of ordinary paint is not really smooth but full of tiny pores—of little holes and crevices—the naked eye cannot see. In this porous surface dust and dirt, smudges and finger-marks cling.

Barreled Sunlight is a white paint made by a special process which produces a smooth, lustrous finish that can be washed like tile.

It costs less than enamel, requires fewer coats and remains white longer. Anyone can apply it with ease. It flows readily and leaves no brush marks.

In hotels, apartments, restaurants, stores—all interiors where light and cleanliness are desired—use Barreled Sunlight.

GRAFTERS AND CROOKS ESCAPE TRIAL

By HARRY HUNT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—War-time profiteers, crooks and sharpers who defrauded the government of millions of dollars in connection with war construction and supplies, unless they already have been indicted or convicted will face no prosecution.

They are as free from any criminal action as though they had been tried and acquitted.

They may later find themselves defendants in suits brought by the government to recover money paid on fraudulent deals or illegal contracts, but these can be only suits which will put no one behind prison bars.

Expiration of the three-year limit, within which any criminal action, not capital, must be instituted, has shut the door to prosecution.

Except perhaps in a few scattering cases in which frauds against the government were committed in adjusting war contracts, following the signing of the armistice, the government, by inaction, has forfeited its right to prosecute and punish.

The department of justice will not give out any estimate as to the number of cases in which immunity is bestowed because of the inactivity of that department in beginning prosecution.

Guy D. Goff, assistant to the attorney general, has been placed in charge of prosecutions and litigations growing out of our war activities.

The special committee of congress which investigated war expenditures reported almost 20 months ago that "in the judgment of the committee enough irregularities and fraudulent practices have been uncovered" to warrant prompt and rigorous prosecution in scores of cases.

In the construction of army camps alone the committee declared there had been a leakage of approximately $80,000,000.

Many expenditures, the report declares, "were obviously tainted with fraud."

Dr. Bishop Tells Way to Air Your Home

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

People can live without food for days and without water for hours, but without air—only a few minutes. It is readily seen then that the air supply is of prime importance.

The mere construction of the proper kind of buildings does not insure good ventilation. Most important feature of ventilation are motion, coolness and the proper degree of humidity and freshness.

Most people are unreasonably afraid of air in motion or drafts. A gentle draft is really one of the best friends which the sincere seeker of health can find. Of course, a strong draft directed against some exposed part of the body, causing a local chill for any length of time, is naturally undesirable.

But the ordinary draft resulting from good ventilation is healthful. The best sort of ventilation is usually to be had through the windows. It is advisable to keep windows open almost always in summer and often in winter.

Whenever practicable, one should have an entrance for fresh air and an exit for stale air at opposite sides of the room. Where there cannot be a cross-current of air such as this, circulation may be established by opening a window both at top and bottom.

Window boards, simple means for letting air in during the winter, directing it upward so that the air will reach the breathing zone without chilling the feet, are excellent. For the lack of such simple things most people go through an entire winter without raising a window.

When it is necessary to be saving of gas or coal, a partial substitute for ventilation can be secured through an electric fan.

The importance of coolness of air is almost as little appreciated as the importance of motion of air. Most people enervate themselves by heat, especially in winter.

The temperature of living rooms and work rooms should never go above 70 degrees and for young people and those who have not lost largely in vigor, a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees is preferable. Heat is depressing. It lowers both mental and muscular efficiency.

In the cold season, indoor air is often too dry and may be moistened to advantage. This may be done to some extent by heating water in large pans or open pots.

In very cold, dry weather, the air supply of an ordinary medium-sized house requires the addition of not less than 10 gallons of moisture every 24 hours and sometimes much more.

THE MARVELS OF THE TELEPHONE

Manager Charles J. Leathers of the local telephone exchange gave a very interesting and instructive illustrated lecture on "The Marvels of the Telephone" before a large and appreciative audience in the vestry of the Chelmsford Centre Unitarian church last evening. The affair was given under the auspices of the Laymen's league and was very successful in every way.

In the course of his lecture, which was featured by about 30 slides, Mr. Leathers told of the wonderful development of the science of telephony from its inception to the present day, bringing back to the memory of his listeners the experimental work of Prof. Alexander Graham Bell in the electrical shop of Charles Williams in Court street, Boston, in 1875. He traced the evolution of the telephone up to the present time, telling of the latest inventions such as the wireless telephone, the loud speaking telephone, which amplifies the sound to cover an audience of over 100,000 and the recent opening of telephone conversation with Cuba by cable. Prior to the lecture a couple of pleasing violin selections were given by E. W. Daly, while Bertram Nold entertained with vocal selections.

GIRLS' CITY CLUB NEWS

Mrs. Mark De Silva has been appointed the chairman of the Women's advisory committee. Some time ago when the committee was formed representatives of the various women's organizations of the city were on the board. Mrs. De Silva came from the Women's college club. She has always been popular with the girls and her appointment is greeted with delight.

At a recent meeting of the club, it was decided to have a Christmas sale of fancy articles. This will probably take place in the second week of December. Miss Noreen Griffin is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

On the Friday before Thanksgiving the Girls' club will conduct a food sale. As these sales have been very popular in the past it is hoped that this one will be equally successful. It is being held to help defray the expenses of the piano which the club recently bought.

The last Sunday of each month has been set aside as Mothers' day. Mothers' day is in the hands of the social committee of which Elizabeth Buzzell is the chairman. On these days two girls will act as hostesses.

A new dance committee has been formed and Mildred Buzzell has been appointed chairman. She will be assisted by a rotating committee. While the dances will still have the director and two matrons present the entire control and discipline will be in the hands of the committee.

The gymnasium classes have started with a good attendance. More may join the classes by registering with the chairman of the committee Catherine Carry. The classes are held at the high school gymnasium every Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

On Thursday, Nov. 10, the Girls' club

THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY CALLS FOR PUBLICITY JOYCE SUIT SETTLED GOV. COX WRITES LODGE

Prof. Smith of Textile School Says Northern Mills Must Get Move On

That the cotton manufacturing interests in southern states are increasing their output each year in a mighty effort to capture the business so far as the south is concerned, and that Lowell cotton mills will in the near future meet with an even stronger competition than is the case today, was the prediction made yesterday afternoon by Prof. Steven E. Smith, who addressed 100 members of the Rotary club after their weekly dinner at the quarters of the Boys' club on Dutton street.

Prof. Smith, head instructor in cotton yarns and knitting at the Lowell Textile school, only recently returned from an interesting trip through the southern states. He paid particular attention to cotton raising and cotton manufacturing. He found, he said, that the crop of cotton this year in most of the larger sections is only about 50 per cent. of normal. He declared that the mill sections of the southern are constantly increasing their number of spindles and predicted that the mills of the north must look to their laurels if they hope to maintain their present standing in the manufacturing industry.

Edward B. Carney was today's dinner chairman, and introduced Prof. Smith. Just previous to the lecture, songs were sung. William A. Mitchell, agent of the Massachusetts cotton mills, leading the Rotarians as bantam-singer, bandmaster and chorus-leader. Mr. Mitchell proved ideal for the position.

Shouts and cheers greeted the announcement that H. Hutchins Parker, popular in mill circles, had another birthday today. The age was hidden by the mill men, but the Rotarians sang a song for him.

An invitation was read from the Boston Rotary club, inviting the local Rotarians to a contest either in this city or Boston. The Rotarians who went to Lawrence and played a red-hot game the other day—score not announced—will take care of the Boston challenge.

Roll-call was held, every member present responding and introducing some nearby guest in rotarian fashion. The attendance today eclipsed the last week's number and ladies were set far down the hall from the overflow.

The net receipts from the recent band concert were announced as $714.57.

Prof. Smith praised the Rotarians for their display of "pep" at the weekly meetings. He said he spent part of the summer in the south, leaving Lowell Aug. 15. He was in the cotton growing on the plants, he said. His trip took him to Raleigh, after a visit to Washington. From Raleigh he visited many large South Carolina manufacturing centers, then went on southward to Savannah and New Orleans, thence to Vicksburg, Memphis, up to Tennessee and through Kentucky, and home by way of Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

The cotton crop all through the south this year, he said, was very poor. Some growers say there is but 42 per cent. of the normal crop. It is the smallest the south has had for a great many years, and many growers are disheartened by the prospects. In the Carolinas the crops looked fairly well, but in many sections plants were only about 2 foot high, and the blooms small.

Prof. Smith was impressed, he said, by the size of the cotton manufacturing centers, especially in the western sections of the Carolinas.

Warren Mill Men
The north must reckon with these rivals soon," he predicted. "They are adding to their number of mills right along, and attempting, apparently, to capture the business to the exclusion of northern competition. I repeat, Lowell manufacturers will have to reckon with their brother mill men in the south. Many southern cities are fast developing industrially. Just as Lowell developed from a small municipality 75 years ago to what it is today. There are cities all along the foothills of the Blue Ridge that are growing fast. The whole section I visited in the industrial centers appeared to be full of that same old 'pep'."

Southern manufacturers, he said, are making attractive communities for their help to live in. Winstonsboro, he said, were ideally located and the operatives apparently contented. Other centers of a very attractive nature were Spartanburg, Charlotte and Greenville. Bungalows are being built for mill help. Beauty reigns around the mill districts. Great rivalry exists among the mill cities. Greenville is laid out solely to keep the mill community healthy and contented. It is like a huge circle, with streets radiating in every direction. The mill managers in the south in many sections are really "czars," Prof. Smith said. He saw no offensive treatment of the negro, he said. They seemed to know their place and were well treated by their white neighbors. Prof. Smith believed the southerners could take care of the so-called "negro problem" very gracefully without help from the north. He saw no blaring color lines anywhere, he said.

Senate Adopts Resolution for Public Reports of Arms Conference

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The American delegation to the armament conference was requested in a resolution offered by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, and adopted today by the senate to use its influence for the making public of the record of conference proceedings and for admission of newspapermen to all meetings of the full conference.

The resolution was adopted without a recorded vote after elimination at the suggestion of Senator Lodge, one of the American delegates, of a clause requesting the American delegates to work against any form of censorship as applied to the conference.

The resolution recited hopes for success of the conference and stated that the senate "believes that the greatest publicity to which, in reason, consideration of the questions for which the conference is called, will admit, will tend towards the success of the conference."

SAYS JAPAN UNFIT FOR EMIGRATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Japanese nation is really unfit for emigrating, declared Gov. J. Inouye of the Bank of Japan, in discussing the question: "What Does Japan Want Economically?" as related to the Washington armament conference.

Gov. Inouye's views, given to the Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo prior to his departure for the armament conference, are considered important as it is his voice that will be heard in Tokyo as the wise men of Nippon cable from time to time instructions to their plenipotentiaries on matters financial and economic.

"As historically proved," said Gov. Inouye, "who is regarded as a Japanese authority on finance and economy, 'it is almost hopeless to think of removing our increasing population to other countries.'"

"Our population is increasing by over 600,000 yearly, but foodstuffs cannot be increased in quantities sufficient to meet such a rapidly augmenting population."

He pointed out the shortage of cotton, wool, steel and iron for Japan's industries and continued: "Such being the case, there is no other way for Japan to solve such a vital problem concerning the economic existence of the nation, than to find resources in economic activity abroad. It will be quite natural that Japan choose Manchuria, Mongolia and China, which she shares the most intimate relationship historically and also geographically. From this economic activity, however, Japan should not be misunderstood as insisting on territorial exclusion."

"Japan has some times been described as being a nation of militarists or as cherishing territorial ambitions. In connection with the causes of such misunderstandings, we only admit that Japan has often fallen into error in the past; that is, Japan has made not a little mistake in her policy in Manchuria and Mongolia and also in China. But now, as the people of Japan have already awakened to the situation, I don't think that Japan will repeat the same mistake in the future."

"Japan's economic activity should be directed not only to acquire an outlet for the products of home industries, though that may suffice other countries but she must further settle the vital question of the economic existence of the nation. Consequently, there may be difference of degrees between the economic activity of Japanese and that of the other nations in Manchuria, Mongolia and China. The situation will easily be understood by all the powers. It is quite unreasonable, if anyone, by reason of such difference of degree should declare that Japan is intending to exclude the other nations."

There is much speculation concerning the possible successor to Mr. Hara. Marquis Salonga is most prominently mentioned.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co. was found guilty today of refusing to permit 25 employees to absent themselves from work for two hours with pay to vote in the primary last April. The company was fined $10 in cash in each of the 25 cases.

Boy Held For Murder and Arson

HAMPTON, Conn., Nov. 8.—Clarence T. Miller, 64, who lived alone at Howard's Valley, was burned to death early today. His house and barn were destroyed and neighbors found the charred body in the cellar. State officers arrested Ernest Skinner, 17, and charged him with arson and murder. The officers say that young Skinner told them that "he hated the old man because he had ordered him off the place." They also say that Skinner said he intended to blow up Miller with dynamite. An alleged confession which the state police say they have, relates that Skinner went to the house at 2 a. m., set it afire and then watched it burn.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, had another long interview, today, with Premier Lloyd George, presumably discussing an Irish settlement. Asks Why Boston Navy Yard Was Denied Opportunity to Submit Bid

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—At about the same time today that the announcement was made that 10 per cent of the civilian force at the Boston navy yard would be laid off indefinitely, beginning Nov. 15, Gov. Cox made public a letter to Senator Lodge, asking him to inquire why the Boston yard was denied opportunity to bid on the reconstruction of the steamer Leviathan. When the question of reconconditioning first came up, the governor's letter said, the navy yard submitted an estimate one million dollars less than those of private contractors.

BIG DROP IN HOG PRICES

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Big arrivals of hogs, the most numerous with but one exception since last April, forced prices down sharply today both in the hog market and in the provision trade.

Hogs dropped 25 to 40 cents a hundredweight, following virtually a similar drop yesterday, with all deliveries of hard and rib (loose) tumbling in consequence to the lowest prices touched yet this season on the Chicago board of trade.

It was surmised that farmers finding the grain market so low as to afford no incentive to rural owners were largely holding back their wheat, corn and oats, and were letting go of their hogs as a means of obtaining ready money.

BAR MEMBERS OF HAPSBURG FAMILY

BUDAPEST, Nov. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is understood that the government has issued a declaration that members of the Hapsburg family cannot be elected to the throne of Hungary. This declaration, made to satisfy the demands of the powers, is to be submitted to the national assembly for ratification.

CLEANUP SQUAD CHIEF HERE

Dennis Havery of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau Gets Busy in Lowell

Dennis Havery, chief of the New England cleanup squads of the U. S. bureau, is in Lowell today supervising and assisting one of the squads that has been here since Monday helping ex-service men with their claims against the government. Following a conference with Abraham Ransen, who is in charge of the Lowell squad, Chief Havery announced this morning the office will be closed all day Friday, but veterans will be assisted again on Saturday. The office to be open from 9 till 1. The New England chief expressed complete satisfaction with the manner in which the work is being carried out in Lowell, particularly laying stress on the valuable assistance given the squad by the local branch of the Red Cross. More than 400 cases so far have come to the squad's attention and by the end of the week Mr. Ransen thinks fully 400 veterans will have been aided in this work. Again he wishes to emphasize the squad's work is not limited to Lowell's ex-service men but also to residents of all New England.

Had it not been for the excellent system maintained by the Red Cross in reference to records and data the work of the squad would have been very difficult. Mr. Ransen said this morning, commenting on the efficient aid given him and his men by the men and women attached to the local Red Cross branch. He also felt very grateful for the valuable assistance given by 'The Lowell Sun' in promoting the veterans' project. The squad will leave here Saturday, resuming its work in Salem, Gloucester and Newburyport next week. The object of the cleanup squad is to assist world war veterans, whose claims have been adjusted unsatisfactorily or who desire information relative to compensation, vocational training, allotment, government insurance or medical treatment.

The purpose of the squad visiting the smaller cities is to expedite the work and facilitate matters for local men, who otherwise would have to go to Boston a number of times before receiving final adjustment.

$360,000 MAIL ROBBERY PLOT

"Big Tim" Murphy, Chicago Union Leader and Alleged Gunman Found Guilty

Three Others Also Convicted by Judge in the Federal Court

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—"Big Tim" Murphy, leader, former state representative, and alleged gunman, was found guilty today by a jury in federal court of plotting the $360,000 mail robbery at Dearborn station last April. Vincenzo Cosmano, union president, and protégé of Murphy, Edward Geiru, alleged driver of the bandits' car, and Paul Volanti also were convicted.

Nearly all the loot was recovered by postal inspectors in a trunk in the garret at the home of Murphy's father-in-law, who with several other defendants, is waiting trial.

Murphy, with a spectacular career in gang, union and political circles, was arrested last year charged with the murder of "Boss" Enright, known as the "king of gunmen." After several months in jail they were released when important state's witnesses could not be found.

LADD PROPERTY LEASED VISITOR FROM ORIENT

Waldorf System Leases Property in Merrimack Square and Paige Street

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Ella P. Ladd, through her attorney, Frank E. Dunbar, delivered to Waldorf system, incorporated, a lease of the store in Merrimack square for many years occupied as a saloon by the late Thomas H. Boyle, and later by John J. Renshaw.

The property leased covers about 4200 square feet and includes, in addition to the store in Merrimack street, a building in the rear in Paige street, now occupied by various stores. By building across Pollard avenue, these two properties can be made to connect, as this avenue was closed some years ago by action of all the abutters thereon.

Provision is made for the construction of a small passageway from Paige street, leading to the rear of Merrimack street store. Future development of the property will not be retarded by the lease, inasmuch as the landlord reserves the right to rebuild the property at any time during the term of the lease.

The present stairway projecting into Merrimack street will be abolished, together with the iron railing surrounding it, which has long been a favorite leaning place for some of our citizens.

It is obvious that the appearance of the square will be greatly improved as a result of this lease.
